President Calling In Humphrey For V.P. Conference

LBJ Gives Press A Run For Its Money At White House

Combined AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson—possibly tipping his hand on his choice for a running mate—said today he expected to summon Sen. Hubert Humphrey to the White House this afternoon to exchange views on the vice presidency.

Johnson made this announcement at what was probably the longest presidential news conference on record—an outdoor session that lasted 90 minutes and 15 laps around the White House backyard.

Johnson said he would invite Humphrey to come down and exchange ideas, suggestions, "and maybe recommendations."

Asked if this did not indicate that the selection of the Senate Democratic whip from Minnesota as the party's vice presidential nominee had been sealed, Johnson said he wouldn't recommend that anyone write that, unless they wanted to "get way out on a limb."

However, Johnson, at no point during the strenuous hike in 90 degree weather, ever gave even a small hint that the nod would go to someone other the Humphrey.

Asked if he expected to announced his choice during the afternoon, the president said: "Yes, I think that's very likely. I think we're very close to a decision."

Johnson also said he would be talking by telephone to Sen. Eugene R. McCarthy (D-Minn.) who had wired the president to remove him from consideration for the vice presidential nod.

And Johnson said he also "may be talking to a senator or two, a governor or two."

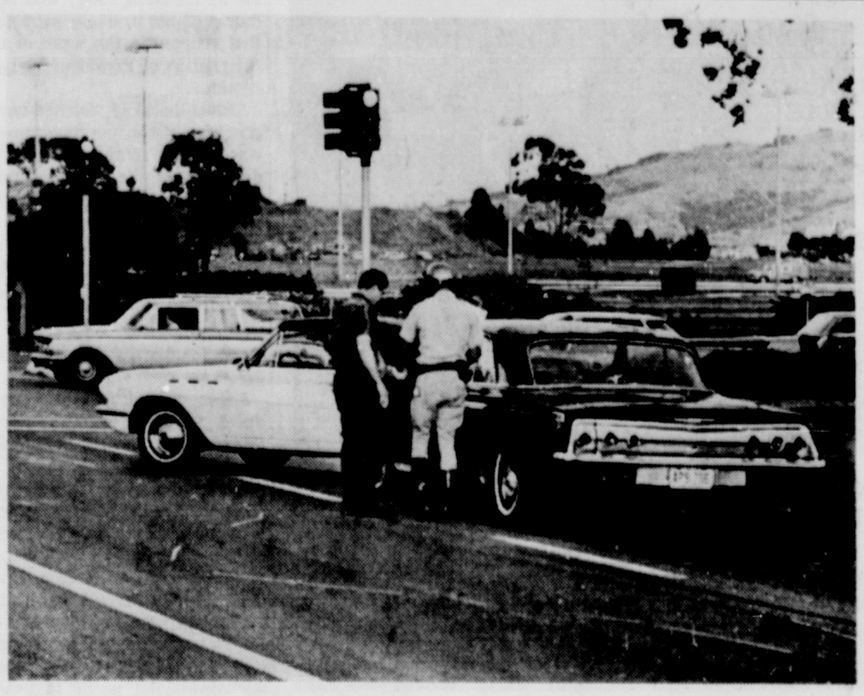

McCarthy, in effect was trying to withdraw his own name from consideration for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

At the convention, Democrats sought to suppress further public squabbling over Southern seats today and give Johnson an unprecedented nomination by acclamation for the presidency.

Delegates were set to do this tonight and also to ratify Johnson's choice for a vice presidential running mate in the campaign against the GOP's Barry M. Goldwater and William E. Miller.

Johnson, who set a new course record for hiking around the circular drive at the rear of the White House, also announced the results of his first complete medical examination since he became president, or at least

Hit-Run Defendant Sues In Accident

Meanwhile, Victim Is Improving

John P. Lee, charged with felony hit-run driving in the July 9 injury of a 12-year-old Greenbrae boy, late yesterday slapped a $100,259 counter-suit in Marin Superior Court against the man who halted him near the accident scene.

An attorney for the latter, Robert F. McCullough of 79 Almenar Drive in Greenbrae, branded the law suit an "unfortunate harrassment" and declared it has "no merit."

The filing action climaxed a flurry of suits, and today was combined with an earlier Small Claims Court suit filed by McCullough to be scheduled for future hearing.

LEGAL DELAY

An affidavit technicality, however, caused Municipal Court Judge Harold J. Haley to hold the small claims suit over until next Wednesday. It was indicated that with correction of the affidavit, the case would then be formally transferred to the higher court.

Struck while riding his bicycle at the intersection on July 9 was Robert G. Miller, 12, of 30 Corte Loyola, Greenbrae. He hovered near death for days at Marin General Hospital and was unconscious for over three weeks. His condition today was reported fair and improving.

INJURIES LISTED

He suffered fractures of the pelvis and left leg, head injuries, and multiple cuts and bruises.

California Highway Patrol officers said Lee, a management consultant with Joseph Froggatt and Co., San Francisco accountants and auditors, was westbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, ran a red light, and struck the Miller youth who was crossing the La Cuesta Drive intersection on his bicycle.

McCullough told officers he was waiting for the traffic light to turn green when he saw Lee's car strike the youth. He said he swung his car around to follow Lee, that Lee made a U-turn one-fourth of a mile away and drove back on the opposite side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and passed the accident site at slow speed.

McCullough said he then used his own vehicle to force Lee to stop. Lee's car hit the left rear fender of McCullough's auto as both drew to a stop.

In Lee's $100,259 suit, he alleges McCullough "wilfully and

SYNANON TRYING TO MAKE FRIENDS

Ludy Welcome 'If He Behaves Self'; Supervisor Denies Gestapo Tactics

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Chuck Dederich, founder of Synanon, today said County Supervisor George H. Ludy can come visit the new headquarters at Marshall any time "if he behaves himself."

Dederich, eager for West Marin residents to know more about Synanon and the proposed operation in the old Marconi Hotel, invited eight neighbors in last night for an informal discussion.

He has also invited the directors of the Tomales Bay Assn. to hold their next meeting in the hotel Friday evening.

"They asked me to attend their meeting and speak to them and I said why not meet here?" Dederich said today.

Dederich referred to the neighbors he has met so far as "a helluva nice gang." He confessed that most Synanon members are "city boys" and have a lot to learn about country life. So far the neighbors have been very helpful, he said.

Mrs. John Fields of Marshall, wife of the president of the association, said the community is divided about 50-50 over the takeover of the old Marconi facilities for rehabilitation of narcotics addicts.

Some want to learn more about it, while others are "up in arms" about the proposed use of the long vacant buildings, she said.

Ludy said he believes Marshall residents are opposed to Synanon.

Ludy today denied using "gestapo tactics" when he visited Synanon Sunday night with Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen and Planning Commissioner Henry C. Hankins.

"All I wanted to do was advise them of the law," Ludy said. "We just sat down and talked about it."

Dederich and other Synanon officials had a different version, saying that Ludy ordered the seven Synanon members there at the time to leave the property. The members called a Synanon attorney and decided to stay put.

Ludy said he is certain that Synanon needs a use permit before it can operate the facilities. Dederich, on advice of Synanon attorneys, declares that no use permit is needed.

About 35 directors and members have moved into the hotel since Sunday, preparing to put it into operation. Eventually there will be 500 living on the 42-acre site.

"I don't think this is the correct procedure," Ludy declared. He said everyone wants to know more about the proposed operation. "I'm not at outs with them. The whole problem is the legality."

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said he was checking the zoning ordinance to see what legal steps should be taken to make Synanon comply.

He expects to refer the case to the district attorney who can order the abatement of uses that violate the zoning ordinance.

"It's unfortunate that we're getting into a hassel," Maloney said. "Whatever they ultimately do should be judged on its merits."

San Rafael Nabs One Escapee, Second Tracked Down In Texas

Two San Quentin Prison escapees, one gone for a day and the other missing since June, were back in custody today.

James C. Fortiner, 53, who escaped from the construction dormitory in the minimum security area Monday, was captured without difficulty at 1:50 a.m. today in San Rafael.

San Rafael Patrolman Phillip D. Green said he spotted Fortiner, in prison denims, walking near 16 Auburn Street. As Green was returning him to the prison, Fortiner said he "had not planned on giving up so easily without a fight, as he wanted a newspaperman to be present."

The other man, John Joseph Wasco, was picked up by police in San Antonio, Tex., yesterday. Wasco walked away from a prison conservation camp at Fort Jones, Siskiyou County, June 14.

Business Mgr. Irving O. Ritter said prison officials do not yet know if Wasco has waived extradition.

Fortiner was convicted of forgery and attempted forgery in Humboldt County in 1959, was paroled in 1961 and returned the same year as a parole violator. His request for another parole was turned down in March.

Wasco was serving two terms, one of up to 20 years, for possession of narcotics. He was convicted in San Diego County in 1953.

Telephone users in Novato will receive an annual reduction in rates amounting to $5,800, according to a report filed today by the California Public Utilities Commission.

Western California Telephone Co., which serves Novato, made a commission-requested filing on the reductions which will pass on benefits of reduced company income taxes to customers.

Total rate reduction for Western California Telephone will be $35,300 a year. It also operates in Kenwood in Sonoma County and in Morgan Hill and Los Gatos in Santa Clara County.

Base rate areas will be expanded and 10-party line phones will be reduced to a four-party line maximum.

Boy Loosens Car Brake, Is Hurt

A 3-year-old Larkspur boy was run over by the car he was playing in yesterday when he released the handbrake of the car in the driveway of his home.

Jonathan Niess of 46 Olive Avenue was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut chin and upper lip and a bruised chest.

Jonathan was playing in his mother's station wagon in the driveway when he released the handbrake. The car began to roll down the driveway and the child jumped out of the car. He fell under the front wheel of the car, according to police.

Children Blamed For Three Fires

Children playing with matches were blamed for three small grass fires in Marin County yesterday, one set deliberately.

Two 8-year-old San Rafael boys admitted to San Rafael police they set a small fire about 5:30 p.m. which burned grass on a vacant lot near 21 Graceland Court.

One admitted he started the fire and the other said he supplied the matches. They were to take their parents to the San Rafael Police Station today for a talk with Sgt. Louis E. Foster, juvenile officer.

In San Anselmo, 20 square feet of grass burned at 5:46 p.m. in a lot near 330 Fawn Drive, started by flames from a newspaper which Fire Chief Frank Sousa said was set on fire by a 10-year-old boy. The youth was given a "stern" lecture by Chief Sousa and turned over to his parents.

A fire which burned an area 15 by 25 feet at 6:20 p.m. on the property of Paul Boucher at end of Tamal Road in Forest Knolls was caused by two boys, age 7, playing with matches, said County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom.

Trustees Told Canal Area School To Cost $610,855

The San Rafael Board of Education last night learned that total cost of site purchase and construction of a 12-classroom school in the canal area with kindergarten, library and administration offices will cost $610,855.

Architect A. Mackenzie Cantin gave the detailed estimate, which includes $130,680 for the purchase of five acres at the southwest corner of Canal Street and Grandview Drive. This is the price put on the land by Kerner-Bellam Co., owners.

Hauling and packing fill would cost $48,300. Fences, streets, drainage and other site development would cost $34,400. Buildings and covered walks would be $290,700. Landscaping, including turfing of the play area would be $14,250. Inspection and architectural fees would total $78,525.

The school board, with chairman C. Paul Bettini and member Carl J. Brown absent, put off action on the report until the Sept. 8 meeting. The board did, however, authorize hiring two appraisers, Neil Brodsgar of San Rafael and David Cohn of San Anselmo, to make independent valuations of the property.

$2,500 In Goods Stolen From Larkspur Home

Burglars entered a home at 300 Madrone Avenue in Larkspur yesterday or last night and made off with more than $2,500 in assorted goods.

Clare Hall said he returned to his home with his wife, Dorothy, at 11 p.m. and found the front and back doors open. They had left the home at 7 a.m. with the doors closed, he reported.

Larkspur Police Officer Charles Mattos said there was no sign of forced entry.

Taken were a pistol and a revolver, jewelry, a mink stole, silverware, goblets, a camera, 10 United States savings bonds, three pieces of luggage, liquor, and a portable radio.

Adults Face Crackdown On Snitching Painters' Cones

Two adults, who allegedly took painter's cones from San Rafael streets last week, have been charged with interference with traffic devices by the district attorney's office.

Adults facing the charge are William J. Newman, 18, of 390 Peachstone Terrace, Marinwood, and Clyde W. Tynes, 34, of Scenic Avenue, San Rafael.

San Rafael police reported that they recovered one cone from Newman's car at 10:30 p.m. Thursday after an officer spotted him slowing down along Lindaro Street where the street was painted.

Tynes was stopped on Woodland Avenue, between Lovell and Eva streets, Thursday at 9:15 p.m. and four cones were recovered from his car, police reported.

Four juveniles, three riding in Tynes' car and one riding in Newman's car, also face similar charges, police said. The juveniles were a 16-year-old boy, a 16-year-old girl and a 15-year-old girl from San Rafael and a 17-year-old boy from Fairfax.

Court To Hear Rights Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear on Oct. 5 an appeal questioning constitutionality of the public accommodations sections of the new Civil Rights Act.

The court's action was announced by its clerk, John F. Davis. The tribunal is now in summer adjournment.

Davis said the argument will concern only the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp. The Pickrick Restaurant, also of Atlanta, Ga., was involved in preliminary steps in the case but will not be concerned directly in the Oct. 5 argument.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Cypriot Overthrow Is Rumored

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — Three Greek Cypriot newspapers today published unconfirmed reports that a coup d'etat allegedly aimed at the overthrow of President Makarios was imminent.

The newspapers, the pro-government Philelef-theros, the extreme right-wing Makhi and the pro-communist Haravghi, said the object of the alleged coup was to proclaim immediate union with Greece and forestall current Greek Cypriot approaches to the Soviet Union for arms aid.

The government did not issue an immediate statement on the reports.

Peron Plans Argentine Return

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Supporters of ex-president Juan D. Peron who visited their leader recently in Madrid published a statement here yesterday reaffirming his determination to return to Argentina this year.

The statement was made public at a press conference by Sen. Alberto Iturbe, whom it endorsed as Peron's authorized spokesman.

The deposed dictator's declaration also proclaimed the "Social Justice" party to be the only true Peronist political organization and the 62-union group as "the only Peronist voice of the workers."

Houston Wars On Mosquitos

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houstonians by the thousands battled the encephalitis-carrying mosquito and its breeding places today as the number of suspected cases of the sleeping sickness rose to 216.

Free insecticide was doled out by the city and residents armed themselves for the war with the female culex mosquito, now blamed for 18 deaths the past 30 days.

Residents in this city of one million flocked to fire stations for the spray chemical they hoped would protect them from the mosquitoes, which carry the disease, commonly called sleeping sickness.

Pan Am Airways Strike Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Transport workers returned today to their jobs at Pan American Airways following a strike-ending agreement on a new labor contract which one union official called the best ever negotiated in the industry.

The strike of AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union members lasted less than 24 hours.

Details of the new contract covering 12,000 union members—maintenance and ground service personnel and flight stewards and stewardesses—were not disclosed pending ratification by rank and file union members.

This is expected to be completed by the middle of next week, the union said.

For Sale: An Almost New Model A Ford

PATTON, Pa. (AP) — Henry Myers, 98, wants to sell his 1928 Model A Ford sedan because "There's too much traffic and it moves too fast."

Myers said he bought the car new and paid $600 for it. He said it's been 68,000 miles—never over 50 miles per hour—and is in good condition.

"The fastest I ever drove was 45 miles an-hour and that was because I was in a funeral procession and I had to keep up with the other cars," he said.

TURNED AWAY AT DOOR

Aaron Henry, leader of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party delegation to the National Convention in Atlantic City last night couldn't get onto the convention floor even though he was one of the two freedom delegates officially seated in the credentials committee compromise. Maj. J. J. Harris of the New Jersey state police denied Henry entrance on grounds he lacked the proper credentials. The all-white regular Mississippi delegation, balked at the convention compromise which would have allowed them to take seats, providing they signed a loyalty pledge, and which seated the two freedom party delegates "at large." The regulars were summoned home by Mississippi Gov. Paul Johnson, who declared now he would not support President Lyndon B. Johnson. (AP Wirephoto)

LEXICON FOR OBSERVERS OF CONVENTIONS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The layman is often confused by the terms used at a political convention.

Actually, they all are quite simple when you understand them. Here are some of the terms heard frequently this week around the Democratic convention and their simple explanations:

Delegation—This is a group of 132 people who come to the convention to cast 12 votes. Included are all persons in the state who contributed more than $1,000 to the party in the last year, and all persons in the state who know what happened to the contributions. There are also three men who are able to breathe in smoke-filled rooms.

Delegate—A member of a delegation. Each delegate casts about 1-16th of a vote—less in some states — whenever he is asked, which is seldom.

Caucus—A meeting of a delegation called to cast votes and decide important questions. All members of the delegations attend except the officers, who are busy at a meeting of party leaders casting votes and deciding important questions.

Informal caucus — Same thing, only drinks are served.

Starting time—A mythical figure selected at random from a spilled type case at the print shop. It is listed in the official program, but bears no relation to the time the program actually starts.

Prime time—The hours on the television schedule between the kiddie cartoons and the late show, during which the commercials are played more often and cost more."

Favorite son candidate — A fellow, usually a senator or a governor, who is boosted for office by his neighbors who want every one to know that even though he hasn't a chance they are willing to part with him, anyway.

Distinguished — The adjective used for every man ever elected to any job which salary is paid by the taxpayer. Includes those who ran unopposed.

CALIFORNIA SPLIT ON COMPROMISE

Brown Praises Mississippi Solution; Delegates Go Along In 114-49 Ballot

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI)—Nothing points up the divisions in California's Democratic Party like the way the state's delegation split over the Mississippi seating fight in the party's national convention.

The delegation voted 114 to 49 at a hotel caucus Tuesday night to support the compromise plan —rejected by both Mississippi delegate groups—for settlement of the contest.

It proved to be only a gesture. By the time the caucus broke up, the convention had roared approval of the credentials committee's proposal.

For instance, such liberals as Rep. James Roosevelt, State Controller Alan Cranston, Sen. Pierre Salinger, and Tom Carvey Jr., California Democratic Council president, sided with Gov. Edmund G. Brown in supporting the compromise.

Such other liberals as Rep. Phillip Burton of San Francisco, Rep. Augusts F. Hawkins of Los Angeles, a Negro; Rep. Don Edwards of San Jose and Carmen Warschaw of Los Angeles, chairman of the California Fair Employment Practices Commission, opposed it.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, balked in an effort to recess the meeting briefly, didn't vote either way. He apparently had hoped to avoid a roll call by taking time out for some negotiating.

Assemblyman Tom Bane of North Hollywood and Mrs. Virna Canson of Sacramento, a Negro, California member of the credentials committee, backed the compromise.

Edwards dissented sharply.

"I couldn't vote for a delegation in a police state where they treat people like animals," he told the caucus.

"You can't have this all at once," Roosevelt retorted.

"We have the Civil Rights Act. We can't have the ultimate right away. We'll have it by 1968, though."

Brown upheld the compromise terms as "a fine solution."

Carvey, who as head of the 70,000-member California Democratic Council has been a forceful exponent of civil rights, described the conditions for seating Mississippi delegates as "a significant triumph."

"I don't think the party will ever be the same in the South again," he told newsmen. "It is a real turning point."

It was a little over a week ago that the Democratic State Central Committee, meeting in Sacramento, urged the delegation to support the Freedom Party bid.

Brown, at a press briefing, said he didn't think the delegation's action violated the resolution—which was not binding on the delegates. He said the situation had changed with the credentials hearing in Atlantic City and the proffered compromise.

"We felt the compromise plan was a real step forward," he said.

Man Acquitted In Bomb Scare

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Navy petty officer charged with creating a bomb scare on an airliner has been acquitted by a federal court jury.

Chief Petty Officer Jim Daniel Andrews, 43, was arrested at San Francisco International Airport July 5. An airline stewardess reported he said something about a bomb in a bag.

James Treovolos, his attorney, argued Andrews only warned the stewardess that the bag "might make like a bomb" if the plane was forced to stop. The attorney said Andrews was only following Navy rules which prohibit placing loose objects on the floor of a plane.

Treasurer Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, treasurer of the United States, underwent surgery yesterday to make certain that bones in an injured elbow knit properly.

Mob Slays 4 In Vietnam Hospital

SAIGON, South Vietnam (UPI)—A mob broke into a hospital operated by an American doctor at Da Nang today and beat four patients to death in rioting that erupted in the wake of the resignation of President Nguyen Khanh.

The outburst of violence came at a time when the government was without firm leadership. A deadlock in the 62-man ruling military council balked attempts for the second day to name a successor to Khanh.

Khanh, who quit yesterday, was grim faced as he left the council chamber at the end of today's meeting.

"The situation is very serious," he said.

Other council members said another attempt would be made tomorrow to choose an interim chief of state.

Meanwhile, there was renewed violence in several cities, with mobs rioting in the streets of the coastal city of Da Nang, 375 miles north of Saigon. Buddhist rioters burned down the Da Nang suburban hamlet of Bo Thanh, occupied by Roman Catholic refugees who fled from the communist north 10 years ago.

The American doctor, whose name was not immediately available, was not injured.

Boeing Designs Vehicle For Moon

SEATTLE (AP)—Plans for a six-wheeled vehicle capable of taking two astronauts for a 14-day, 250-mile jaunt on the surface of the moon were disclosed Tuesday by the Boeing Co.

The vehicle would be sent to the moon aboard an Apollo spacecraft. If radio signals showed it landed safely, the astronauts would follow in another Apollo.

The wheels of the vehicle would be five or six feet in diameter, wire-wrapped and covered with steel mesh to cope with jagged rubble on the moon's surface.

Murphy Lashes Kennedy, Salinger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Republican U.S. Senate candidate George Murphy says Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Democratic Senate candidate Pierre Salinger are "two Virginians who are trying to use the U.S. Senate to serve their own purely political ambitions."

Murphy said yesterday that "by moving about the country seeking political launching pads, Bobby and Pierre are corrupting a tradition of American government."

Civilian Nuclear Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law today legislation that would allow the government to lease, sell or give away special nuclear material.

The purpose of the law is to allow development of civilian nuclear power programs along more normal commercial lines.

the first one that has been disclosed.

Four physicians, two of whom treated him after his 1955 heart attack, signed a statement saying:

"There is no reason why he (Johnson) should not continue an vigorous life."

The physicians reported normal blood pressure, electrocardiogram, and blood cholesterol.

The doctors also reported that Johnson's "exercise tolerance continues to be superb."

The president's hiking left little doubt of that in the minds of those who walked with him.

On other topics, Johnson said:

He believes the Democrats will pick up three to six Senate seats in November and emerge from the election with seats. He said he expected Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to win the seat of Republican Sen. Kenneth Keating in New York, and Democrat Joseph Tydings to defeat GOP Sen. J. Glenn Beall in Maryland. He mentioned no other states.

Spending much of the time talking about public opinion polls Johnson said that, generally speaking, polls he has seen credit him with the support of 60 to 70 per cent of the electorate.

The president plans to spend as much time as possible in the White House during the campaign, but will travel from one to three days a week around the country, as conditions permit.

Redevelopment Agency Affirms Obligations

Marin County Redevelopment Agency commissioners last night adopted a resolution affirming to the Federal Housing Administration that the 56 apartments and 30 houses to be built will meet the agency's relocation obligations.

The commission adopted a resolution approving the joint venture of California Development Co., redeveloper of Marin City, and Overseas Discount Corp., Inc., New York, subject to urban renewal administration concurrence. The approval agrees to the Overseas Discount Corp. as a financing partner of California Development Co.

A third resolution adopted authorizes the sale to Bank of America, San Francisco, of preliminary loan notes totaling $1,615,000 to refinance the redevelopment.

Judge Agrees Impossible To Cross Street

GLENDALE (AP)—The facts really got a clinical examination in Judge Kenneth A. White's municipal court — and justice was meted out in a most pragmatic way.

Dr. Cary Kenyon, of the UCLA medical center, was cited for crossing a busy boulevard against the red light. He pleaded innocent, claiming there wasn't time to cross legally.

Judge White adjourned court and went to the intersection. He pushed the pedestrian button.

On the green light the judge got as far as the safety island midstream in the busy thoroughfare. He checked his watch: 15 seconds.

He tried it again. This time he didn't even make the island. Time: nine seconds.

Blaze Thwarts Bargain Hunters

NEW YORK (AP)—A smoky fire broke out today in the subbasement of Saks Fifth Avenue department store. Hundreds of customers and employees fled to the street.

Smoke poured up elevator shafts and through air conditioning ducts in the 10-story structure.

Deputy Fire Chief Thomas Reilly declared there was "not too much damage" in the subbasement. Some electrical fixtures had been damaged, he added.

India Cracks Down Starvation Marchers

NEW DELHI, India (AP)— Arrests in a nationwide Communist protest against food shortages and high prices passed 3,000 today when about 100 Red demonstrators tried to invade the Food Ministry.

Police met them at the gate and, after a brief scuffle, loaded them aboard patrol wagons. There were no injuries reported.

Once-Denied Plans Win In Larkspur

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night granted property owner Hil Probert a permit to construct a 60-bed convalescent hospital at Magnolia Avenue and William Street.

The commission had originally denied the request for a use permit, but the city council overturned this denial when Probert presented a revised plan for the hospital.

The commission's action last night was by a 2-1 vote, with Commissioner William P. Schnell voting "no." There is one vacancy on the commission and Commissioner Andrew Gilardi was absent.

The permit was granted subject to architectural supervision of the building and approval of the commission for any tree cutting on the property.

Deputies Solve Vandalism Acts In Marinwood

Two Lucas Valley youths, both aged 14, have admitted being involved in a malicious mischief spree in Marinwood late Sunday night, Marin sheriff's officers said today. Three other youths are to be questioned.

Nine residents of Marinwood reported minor damage, estimated by Juvenile Deputy William Johansen to total about $250, in mischief which included stomping of bushes, breaking off of tree tops, and painting of a Nazi swastika on a sign for Eichler Homes, Inc.

Deputy David R. Salkeld said he learned identity of the two youths and questioned them. All five are expected to be turned over to the sheriff's juvenile department for further investigation today, Johansen said.

Forest Service Plane Falls On Nevada Mission

AUSTIN, Nev. (UPI) — A twin-engine plane reseeding a burned forest area crashed in rugged mountain country south of Austin today, the Lander County sheriff's office said.

There was no word on the fate of the two men aboard. They were not yet identified.

One report said one man was killed and the other injured, but this could not be confirmed.

Sheriff's officers, Toiyabe National Forest officials and an ambulance were sent into the area of 11,474-foot Bunker Hill, about 15 miles south of Austin, in central Nevada.

A forest fire burned about 6,000 acres in the Big Creek area last week.

The plane was a twin-engine Beechcraft owned by the Forest Service. It normally is based in California.

Heart May Run On Air

ANAHEIM (AP)—Heart patients may someday be kept alive—and functioning normally—by a mechanical heart that runs on air.

And a group of California aerospace scientists have been called on to supply the beat for that artificial heart.

Under a National Heart Institute contract, the Autonetics Division of North American Aviation Inc. will develop an air pump to supply the rhythmic beat of the heart, company spokesman said.

The pump must deliver air in pulses to the artificial heart creating the pulsing pressures similar to those found in real hearts.

Supersonic Test Checks Idea

EDWARD AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—The X-15 flashed at five and a half times the speed of sound today to see if a rippled fuselage surface would cause less air friction heating than the rocket ship's present smooth metal skin.

The flight at 3,716 miles an hour and to an altitude of 87,000 feet (18 miles), by Space Agency pilot Jack McKay, was to pave the way for the design of future piloted spacecraft.

Bolted to the underside of the X-15 were two rippled metal panels and two smooth metal panels. Scientists will study temperature readings on both to see which heated less during the flight.

SUIT

intentionally" caused his car to collide with Lee's and caused $259 damage to Lee's vehicle.

He said he was detained by McCullough by threat of force and without a warrant, and was "maliciously and forceably seized, held, restrained and confined" in his own car against his will for an hour.

He asks the auto damage, and $50,000 punitive damages for being subjected to "humiliation and distress" and for suffering "great mental anguish." Attorneys for Lee of 501 Oak Avenue, are Berwyn A. Rice and Harold B. Hyde of San Rafael.

D. K. MacDonald Jr., San Rafael attorney representing McCullough in the small claims suit today, said in court it was unfortunate that McCullough has been subjected to "this type of harrassment."

"Filing of this type of suit does not serve in the administration of justice," he said.

McCullough's small claims suit, filed Aug. 11, asked for $77.86 damages to his vehicle.

On Aug. 12, a $250,000 personal injury suit was filed against Lee in Marin Superior Court on behalf of the Miller boy. His father, Robert W. Miller, alleged Lee operated his vehicle in a "negligent, careless and reckless manner."

An original criminal complaint of felony drunken driving against Lee was dismissed in a Marin Municipal Court preliminary hearing Aug. 13, but Lee was bound over to Superior Court on the felony charge of hit-run driving with injury. He is free on $2,200 bail, with plea scheduled for Sept. 10.

Young Miller, allegedly hurled 129 feet by the impact, was visited recently in his hospital room by Willie Mays, outfielder for the San Francisco Giants baseball team.

McCullough said at noon today he was "amazed to be subjected to this type of thing ($100,259 law suit) when I was only doing my duty as a citizen."

LBJ Hints Early Visit To Scene Of Nomination

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson may come to Atlantic City Thursday morning to participate in Democratic National Convention activities, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today.

Mansfield relayed that word in a breakfast talk to the delegation from his home state, Montana. He emphasized that the plan still is subject to change.

He did not go into detail on the Atlantic City activities under consideration by the White House.

Mansfield said the President informed him of the intention in the course of a telephone conversation.

2 Hurt As Auto Hits Span Rail

Two persons were injured when the car they were riding in hit the railing of the connector road from Highway 101 to Sir Francis Drake Bouvelard at 9:40 p.m. yesterday.

Treated for scrapes at Marin General Hospital were the driver, Craig Sidney Piro, 17, of 42 Corte Morada, Greenbrae, and his passenger, Melinda Herron, 15, of San Francisco.

Piro applied the breaks to the car and the rear end went out of control, hitting the bridge railing. He was cited by the California Highway Patrol for speeding.

Farm Campaign On Meat Failing

CHICAGO (UPI)—Livestock poured into the Chicago stockyards and prices fell for the second consecutive day today despite a 23-state farmers' campaign to boost prices by keeping animals off the market.

The American Meat Institute, spokesman for the meatpacking industry, said the eight-day-old "holding action" of the National Farmers Organization was collapsing.

An estimated 16,000 head of cattle showed up at the Chicago yards. It was the biggest total since May 25 and the most for a Wednesday since Dec. 27, 1961.

Record For Cow

"Napstahos Roena Julius De Kol," a Holstein cow owned by Marvin L. Nunes of Point Reyes Station, has produced 16,004 pounds of milk and 588 pounds of butterfat in 302 days, described as a "noteworthy record" by the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

OBITUARIES

Auto Death Victims' Rites Set

Funeral services have been set for two young women killed in a crushing three-car crash on the Redwood Highway, a half mile north of the Marinwood overpass, Monday night as they were returning from a wedding in Petaluma.

The victims, Carol Florence Fay, 22, and Diana Alice Bullard, were roommates in San Francisco.

Services for Miss Fay, a former Kentfield resident, will be held in San Rafael, and services for Miss Bullard, formerly of Petaluma, will be held in Petaluma.

A third rider in the fatal car, Shirley Jean Tietjen, 22, of 10 Corte Cayuga, Greenbrae, was reported in satisfactory condition at Novato General Hospital today.

Miss Tietjen, who suffered fractured ribs, internal injuries and cuts of the face and legs, has regained consciousness and is "doing well" in her recovery, the hospital reported.

The driver of the second car, which the California Highway Patrol said crossed the divider and collided with the fatal car, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital.

The driver, Donald B. Still, 39, of 53 Unionstone Drive, Marinwood, suffered facial cuts.

Services for Miss Fay, daughter of Raymond Fay of Mill Valley, will be held at Keaton's Mortuary at 10 a.m. Friday.

Miss Fay, a secretary for Wells Fargo Bank, was a native of California and lived in Marin County until she moved to San Francisco three years ago.

Surviving are her father, Raymond, and stepmother, Lucy Fay, of Mill Valley; a brother, Michael Fay; a sister, Pamela Jane Fay; step-brother, Bruce William Merrill; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen J. Stott of Kentfield and a paternal grandmother, Florence M. Fay of North Hollywood.

Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated for Miss Bullard at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, Petaluma, at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Miss Bullard, who had completed her work for a bachelor's degree at San Francisco State College last week, was a native of Merced who had been living in Petaluma since 1946.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bullard, a brother, William Arthur Bullard of Santa Rosa and a paternal grandfather, Bionca Romani of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at the Parent Funeral Chapel at 8 p.m. today.

LBJ, Reuther Meet In D.C.

DETROIT (UPI)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Ruether met with President Lyndon B. Johnson today, only a few hours before Reuther was to fly to Detroit to help select the strike target for the 1964 auto negotiations.

There was no word concerning the subject matter discussed at the White House breakfast, But it was known that Johnson has taken a keen interest in the status of current negotiations and presumably Reuther discussed the union's plans.

Johnson's chief labor troubleshooter, William Simkin, was scheduled to arrive here from Washington and observe the talks and possibly head off a threatened strike.

High-Rise Plan Gets Lone Backer

The voice of a lone resident spoke out in behalf of three 12-story apartment buildings in Del Mesa Highlands at last night's meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

About 15 persons raised their hands to indicate they were present to object to the plan, prepared by Faradg Gilan-Farr for 24.5 acres off D Street at the foot of Wolfe Grade, owned by William Nock Co.

Nock's application is for rezoning from single-family dwelling with 20,000-square foot lots to "planned community." Gilan-Farr's plans call for a total of 312 units in the three high-rise buildings and 24 four-plexes.

"As a whole, I am more for 40 buildings and 200 trees than for 200 buildings and 40 trees," said A. Leonhard of 42 Grove Street, the only neighbor to give the proposal a good word. "As to density, that's another matter, but multiple zoning may be in place here."

There were plenty of trees on a model of the plan which was displayed by Gilan-Farr—each placed to represent one real tree on the property, he said. One woman in the audience suggested some might have to be removed to let in some daylight to the four-plexes.

Most crucial objection was not expressed by any of the neighbors in the audience, but by Planning Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson. He pointed out that under the present zoning, about 50 homes would be allowed on the 24.5 acres. "You're asking 312 units; that's over six times as many," said Hendrickson, then, to chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr.: "I'm putting him on notice that he hasn't met the burden of showing the need for rezoning the ordinance requires."

Gilan-Farr's reply was that San Rafael needs such an apartment development "in the heart of town."

Among eight nearby residents to speak in objection to the rezoning were Lawrence Garatti of 122 Antoinette Street, who questioned whether roads and sewers in the area were adequate for the increased load and whether drainage would be a problem; Lawrence J. Solari of 293 Makin Grade, Kentfield, who raised a question of hazardous left turns off winding D Street grade, and a woman who did not identify herself who said such a plan should include a school site.

Although there is no school site, Gilan-Farr's proposal does include giving 4.8 acres to the city for an addition to Gerstle Park, which adjoins a corner of the property.

Nock, speaking for the proposal, said he has turned down several opportunities to sell the land to speculators as "I have a certain affection for the City of San Rafael." Nock is a former mayor.

Second hearing on the rezoning will be held Sept. 15, at which time Nock's application for a use permit for the 312 units will also be considered.

Mass In English Doesn't Disturb, Celebrant Avers

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Will the Roman Catholic still feel at home at a Mass substantially different from any he has known?

And the priest, who all his adult life has intoned the ancient Latin rites of the Church —will he feel comfortable saying most of them in English?

"It may be a little complicated getting used to something new," says the Rev. Frederick R. McManus of Washington, D.C., who was the first to celebrate the English Mass that will come to all U.S. Roman Catholics Nov. 29.

"Each time there is something different, there are those who say 'it will disturb many people,' but it doesn't," he said.

More than half the Mass was in English, a change brought by permission of the Second Vatican Council concluded last December in Rome. The purpose of this, and future changes, is to give the churchgoer a better understanding of the service and a greater sense of participation.

Governor Appoints Los Angeles Judge

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has appointed Howard S. Goldin, assistant state attorney general, a judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court, the governor's office announced yesterday.

Goldin, 40, replaces Judge Kenneth D. Holland, who was elevated to the superior court by the governor last week.

Apartment Designs Must Be Improved

"If you don't make them attractive, you can't rent them," Planning Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson last night warned proponents of a 44-unit apartment project in East San Rafael.

On Hendrickson's motion, the San Rafael Planning Commission unanimously approved the number of units but ordered the design be redone to satisfy the city planning staff and lot lines be relocated to correct setbacks.

The design submitted by Patterson Properties, the applicants, showed "145 feet of concrete wall with small windows" on one side of the complex, noted Commissioner T. R. O'Toole.

"You're coming to San Rafael and building, and trying to give us as little as you can instead of trying to contribute something," Hendrickson bluntly told the applicant's representatives.

The commission was in no mood to be trifled with about design. It unanimously turned down a request by Edward Santa to approve new plans eliminating a screen block wall along street frontage for a service station and office at 25 Vivian Way, and directed that Santa be told to erect the wall by Sept. 10 or the matter would be turned over to the city attorney. The wall was required when plans were approved last May 14.

Commissioners expressed some doubt over B. D. Schultz's plan to remodel an old two-story house at 402 D Street for an office and upstairs apartment. City Planner George H. Rodgers recommended denial, reporting Chief Building Inspector Jack K. Coates had drawn up a list of requirements to bring the building up to standard which would be too difficult to meet.

Schultz, however, insisted he would meet all the conditions. "It just appeals to me," he said of the gabled, shingle-walled house, where he plans to locate his real estate office.

On motion of Commissioner John A. Miskimen, the commission approved a use permit for office space, while warning Schultz that his plans would get a thorough going-over when submitted for architectural approval.

The lot is the last on D Street south of Bayview Street, which the commission has decided is the "cutoff line" for further office use on D Street.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Followed Planner Rodgers' recommendation in denying 4-to-1, Mrs. Ethel Michaels' application for rezoning a lot at 202 Miramar Avenue from single-family to duplex. Eighteen neighbors signed a petition against the rezoning, and there was one letter opposed and one in favor. Commissioner O'Toole dissented from the turndown.

2. Put off to Sept. 15 consideration of Jim Wirick's request for a two-lot subdivision on Chula Vista Drive at Oakmont Avenue, Rodgers reporting the map had been received only Monday.

3. Similarly put off consideration of the map of the six-lot Gracie Tract in Rafael Terrace, owned by Harry Diner, requested information having been received only yesterday.

4. Approved final maps of Terra Linda Unit 22 of 40 lots, an Alameda Homes development; Douglas M. Christensen's Northgate North, for two service stations and a Kaiser Foundation hospital, and the 34-unit three-story Harbor Village condominium at Larkspur, Canal and Novato streets, proposed by Marin Properties Co.

5. Approved a revised tentative map for Marin Properties Co.'s Larkspur Village on the north side of Larkspur Street, reducing the number of lots to 12 but not specifying the number of units. A map calling for 14 lots and 39 units had been approved by the commission July 14. An earlier final map for 40 units on eight lots was approved by the city council last Jan. 6.

6. Declined to extend approval of the tentative map for Loch Lomond Highlands Units 2 and 3 on expiration of the year since it was first approved, directing that applicant Hujon, Inc., go over it with the planning staff to improve the design and resubmit it Sept. 15.

7. Granted Perma-Bilt Enterprises a one-year extension of permits for four signs advertising Glenwood Forest, while assuring president B. R. Rockwell of the Glenwood Property Owners Assn. that the city will cooperate to get rid of other Glenwood advertising signs.

8. Put over Mobil Oil Co.'s request for a use permit for a service station at Francisco and Bellam boulevards to await submittal of new plans.

9. Approved use by Dominican College until next June 30 of a house at 1456 Grand Avenue, leased from Ray Hamilton, as a temporary dormitory.

10. Recommended that the city council require a four-foot building setback for overhead electric lines on Verdi and Lisbon streets in East San Rafael, as requested by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. voted "no," and Miskimen abstained.

11. Granted John Brunner architectural approval for an office building on Lootens Place between Third and Fourth streets, with a provision that there be planter box landscaping in front.

12. Approved the final map for 62-lot Seaview Heights No. 2, east of Knight Drive in Glenwood, for D. A. Construction Co.

13. Re-scheduled public hearings on the city general plan for next Tuesday and Oct. 16.

14. Fired another blast at a Direct Appliance and Furniture sign put up without a permit on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way, chairman Robbins directing that the commission secretary write City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to "get that sign down."

Commissioner Walter J. Coyne, absent from several successive meetings, was again absent last night. Also absent was Commissioner Carl S. Brown.

Ark Dwellers Get Another Reprieve

Waldo Point ark dwellers were given a one-month reprieve by the county board of supervisors yesterday, after representatives complained that County Sanitation Director William F. Desmond had torpedoed their sanitation plans.

Desmond was instructed to refer all future questions on the subject to the board of supervisors, instead of giving answers himself.

The board had earlier agreed to allow the houseboat dwellers to install mechanical chemical toilets as an interim sanitation measure until sewers may be installed. The residents had been given until Sept. 4 to act.

But, complained James Healy of the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn., Desmond had told two people by phone and one by letter that the devices which had been approved would not be satisfactory, as far as he was concerned.

Healy said Desmond had also advised boat dwellers not to invest money in the devices because the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board was expected to prohibit their use on Sept. 17.

"We agreed the devices may be a palliative, and we know you may not like them," Supervisor Peter H. Behr told Desmond, "but I wonder if your rights extend to undercutting us."

The sanitarian said he was not trying to undercut anybody, but did not want to be identified as endorsing the devices and wanted residents to know about the expected water pollution control board action.

"We are willing to take the water pollution control board on," answered Healy. Supervisor William D. Fusselman reminded houseboat representatives that the board action carried no guarantee against moves by the state agency.

Desmond then noted that the county would be given the job of enforcing the water pollution control board directives, and prosecuting violations. He agreed with Fusselman, however, that a timetable for compliance would probably be included.

The supervisors then voted to give the ark dwellers until Oct. 4 to have the special toilets installed, and advised the residents to seek sanitation permits from the county.

Naval Airman

George J. Fenick, Navy aviation electrician's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fenick of San Rafael, is serving with Reconnaissance-Attack Squadron Nine homebased at the Naval Air Station at Sanford, Fla.

Man Leaps Silently To His Death

A silent man jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday at 12:49 p.m.

Marion Davenport Elder, 50, of San Jose, left no note and did not say a word as he climbed the bridge railing at midspan and jumped. His body was recovered by the Coast Guard at 1:02 p.m.

Bridge painter James McMillan said he saw Elder quickly climb the bridge railing and then hesitate for a moment. He said Elder did not say a word.

His car was found parked in the Vista Point parking lot. There was no note in it. The California Highway Patrol said Elder had no known family.

Marinite Hurt As Auto Rolls

Douglas E. Kinna, 30, of 19 Berens Drive, Kentfield, was in good condition at Marin General Hospital today with a broken right arm suffered when his car went off a freeway and rolled over near Torrance, Los Angeles County, early yesterday.

Kinna received emergency treatment at a Torrance hospital, then was brought to Marin County last night by his wife.

He was the only person involved in the mishap.

THE PRESSURE'S ON

Astronaut Walter Cunningham sits with a thermometer in his mouth as NASA technicians check his pressurized suit yesterday while on a test site west of Bend, Ore., in the McKenzie Pass lava fields. Cunningham is among three test subjects working in pressurized suits to test man's mobility potential on terrain typical to the lunar surface.

Motorized Marksmen Blamed For Wound

Mrs. E. Joan McShane reported to Mill Valley police at 1:55 p.m. yesterday that her grandson, Gregory Schaefer, 13, had been shot in the hip with a B-B pellet, apparently fired by teen-agers who were riding in a 1956 or 1957 gray Chevrolet.

The incident occurred, she added, while the youth was riding his bicycle on Camino Alto near Miller Avenue. Mrs. McShane lives at 550 Miller Ave.

County Budget Set Officially By Board

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, by 3-1 vote, adopted the official resolution setting the county budget yesterday.

The $21,261,036.75 budget had, in fact, been determined earlier, but yesterday's legal formality gave Supervisor William D. Fusselman his chance to cast a "no" vote, which has become traditional in recent years on the budget.

Voting for the measure were Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Byron W. Leydecker and George H. Ludy. Chairman William A. Gnoss was absent.

Fusselman, who was ill the day of the final budget hearings, said he was opposed, as in the past, because of the large amount set aside for the second stage of the Civic Center. He repeated his opinion that the voters of the county should have a chance to vote on such an expenditure.

On a separate resolution, setting the county tax rate at $2.30 and a library district tax rate at 15 cents to raise a $399,121 district budget, Vice Chairman Ludy merely called for "aye" votes and then went on to the next matter before Fusselman could speak.

Fusselman later handed a note to the clerk saying he wanted to be recorded as abstaining on that vote.

The board agreed to join the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission in a request that the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau make a survey of the county in an attempt to find ways of consolidating fire jurisdictions.

The board, at Fusselman's request, also asked the cities to join in the request.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

1. Allocated $1,072 for survey work in preparation for dredging Gallinas Creek.
2. Consolidated the election of Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District directors with the Nov. 3 general election.
3. Approved a new site for the Fairfax library, next door to the old library.
4. Sold $175,000 worth of construction bonds for the Tomales High School District to the Bank of California at an interest rate of 3.3805 per cent, for a total cost of $51,550. The bank was lowest of six bidders.
5. Set Sept. 15 for receiving bids for Kentfield School District bonds which were to have been sold yesterday. The advertisement had not been published and no bids was received.
6. Held over to Tuesday a decision on purchase of tires and batteries for the fiscal year. Low bidder on tires was Golden State Tire Service Co. of Richmond, but Fusselman raised a question about ability of county forces to change tires on heavy equipment if a firm outside the county is chosen.
7. Reappointed Norman Campbell, Franklin Gustafson and Norman McCollom to the county board of appeals, but held up reappointment of Fred Woodhull to learn if he still wishes to serve.
8. Asked for action to encourage the cities to make their building codes conform with that of the county.
9. Agreed to contract street striping service for the cities of Fairfax and Novato.
10. Continued until Tuesday final approval of plans for first phase work on Paradise Beach Park.
11. Agreed to loan County Flood Control Zone 3 funds so that an early start can be made on purchases of outboard lots in Richardson Bay. The funds would be paid back after taxes are collected in the fall.
12. Overruled the planning commission to deny Richard Toschi a lot split creating a narrow lot on Stirling Road, near Vision Road, Inverness.
13. Granted Orville Yerion an unlimited use permit for a trailer court on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Forest Knolls.

School Job Bids Go Over Estimate

Bids on the addition of a library and three classrooms at Sun Valley School came in well over the estimate last night and the San Rafael Board of Education agreed to delay action on the contract.

Lowest of five bids was submitted by Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma at $12,700. Estimate on construction was $100,000.

Even with all additional fees and charges, total cost was not expected to exceed $120,000, Supt. Bert C. Corona said.

Other bids were Hall Construction Co. of Napa, $129,200; William C. Horstmeyer of San Francisco and San Rafael, $130,891; Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross and San Rafael, $130,957, and Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $131,100.

Board members agreed to delay any action on the bids until their Sept. 8 meeting.

Board Chairman C. Paul Bettini and member Carl J. Brown were absent last night.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Voted to purchase an 11-passenger bus for $2,221 from Shamrock Dodge to serve Bret Harte Heights where streets are too curvy for larger buses. The board also adopted district bus schedules for the coming school year, subject to the changes brought on by the addition of the small bus which will serve as a shuttle.
2. Accepted work on the science wing at Terra Linda High School, where science laboratories were added and refurbished at a cost of $74,000.
3. Approved a change order on the San Rafael High School library and classroom addition where a gas line, found under the demolished portion of the old building, will have to be relocated at a cost of $1,200.
4. Sent back to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney the draft of a joint powers agreement between the district and the county superintendent of schools on construction and operation for classrooms for deaf and hard of hearing. Board members noted that there was no provision for the district to cancel the agreement, although the county superintendent was given that right.
5. Voted to grant classified employees in administrative posts (seven involved) a four-week vacation after five years with the district.
6. Received a letter from the California State Council of Carpenters urging the district to buy school cabinets from California manufacturers.
7. Learned that the next meeting will be in E Street School, where administration offices are being prepared. The present administrative building will serve as a language laboratory while work is underway at San Rafael High School.
8. Hired Norma L. Erickson, Mrs. Jean E. MacConnell, Carolyn Moore, Jeanne Smolski and Judith Surridge to teach in the elementary school district and Mrs. Jean McCoy to teach in the high school district.
9. Ordered that textbooks, mostly on English and foreign languages be put on display for two weeks before the board acts on purchase for school use.

Car Rolls Twice In Waldo Tunnel

Two persons were injured yesterday at 5 p.m. when the car they were riding in turned over in the Waldo tunnel on Highway 101 and rolled twice.

Raymond Leroy Frederickson, 67, of Redwood City was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes on his face and left shoulder and Payy Leake, 10., of Sebastopol, a passenger in the driven by Frederickson was treated for scrapes on her left leg.

Frederickson was driving south on Highway 101 when his car slammed into the wall of the tunnel 60 feet south of the north end of the tunnel, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Two Almonte Sanitary Candidates Eliminated

Two candidates for Almonte Sanitary District director in the Sept. 8 election have been eliminated from the race by the present board on the basis their nominating petitions were defective.

Candidates are Frank Shirado and Herbert Davis, now president and vice president of the Almonte Improvement Club.

They are two of seven who filed for the expiring positions of Richard J. Dawe, Frances M. Gelardi and Robert A. Alexander. The three incumbents are candidates, as are David Beasley and Robert Raudso.

The board voted 3-0 Monday night to drop the two candidates, chairman Alexander abstaining and Fred H. Field absent. Gelardi, board secretary, said he conferred with Deputy County Counsel James F. Gustin on the subject who suggested three alternatives: Reject the two petitions, reject none, or reject all seven.

Gelardi told the board the petitions were defective because blank spaces were left at the place of nominee signatures and circulator signatures and, in Davis's petition, the notary signed in the blank where the nominee was supposed to sign.

The board acknowledged a letter from County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell stating assessed valuation of the district, which contains about 500 families, has increased 41.2 per cent over last year. A special meeting was set for Sept. 15 to certify election.

Work For Elderly

Charles A. Brown, Sausalito city manager, said today he is still accepting applications from older persons interested in working as parking attendants at the plaza parking lot. The jobs are for about three hours work per day. The lot, which operates with a ticket gate, is to be changed from a fee of 25 cents per day to 10 cents per hour in about a month.

Richmond-San Rafael Span Hits 432,547 July Record

Traffic crossed the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at a record-setting rate last month.

The Division of Bay Toll Crossings reported that 432-547 vehicles crossed the span as compared to 405,754 in July, 1963, a 6-6 per cent increase.

The tolls for the month totalled $358,090 and the daily average for vehicles rose to 13,953.

Three of the six San Francisco Bay area bridges operated by the state set traffic records last month, the division reported.

Traffic on the Benicia-Martinez Bridge set a new mark of 287,190 vehicles and the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge had a record 443,818 vehicles.

Alabama Schools

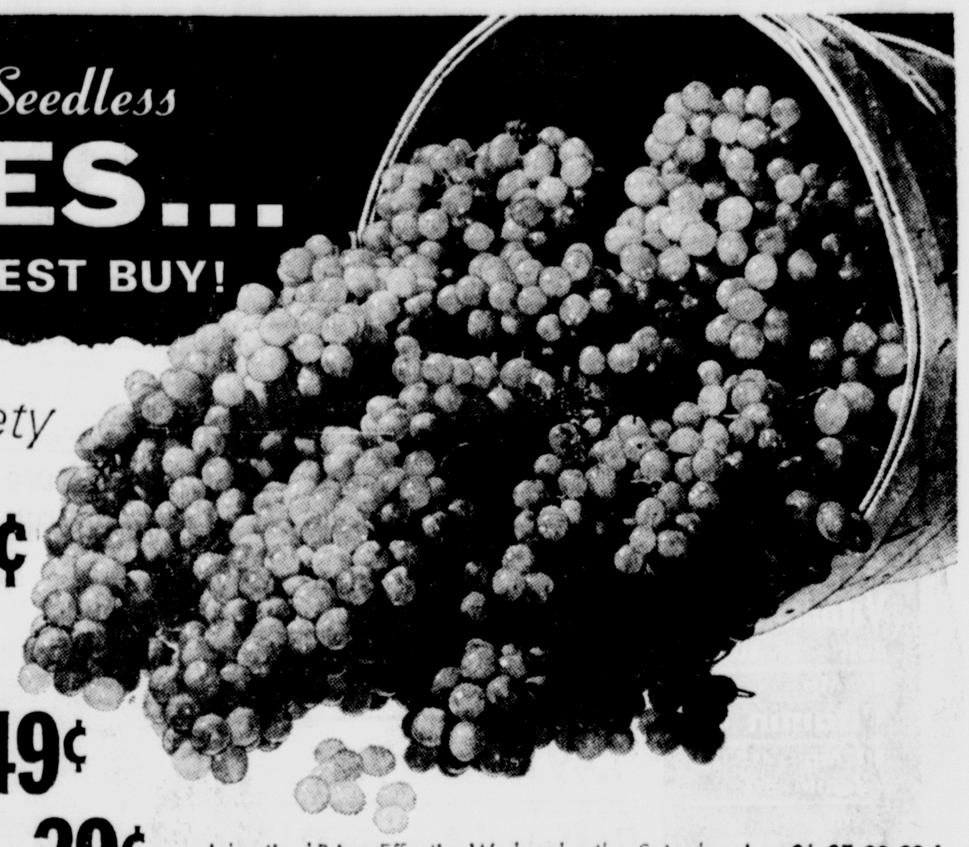

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace yesterday signed into law a 15-million-dollar bond issue bill for a network of junior colleges and trades schools aimed at putting educational facilities "within a stone's throw" of all Alabama students. It would double the amount of money now available for that type of education.

The level of the ocean near Juneau, Alaska, has dropped 14 inches since 1940.

Caletta Span Will Be Rebuilt To Old Design

The old Caletta Avenue Bridge in San Anselmo, which was washed out twice this year, will be re-built to its original design at a cost of $8,998.

John H. McCosker Co. of Berkeley won the contract last night by submitting the lowest of four bids. The high bid, by Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera, came in at more than double the price, $18,892.

The new span, including a pedestrian walkway, will be completed within 75 days, Public Works Director Richard A. Sypher told the San Anselmo City Council. The wooden structure, between Butterfield Road and The Alameda, was closed last June after a washout and the snapping of supporting timber.

The city engineer's original estimate of restoring the bridge was $6,500, but Sypher revised the estimate to $9,100 just before the bid opening.

The city council formally awarded a $16,354 contract to J and K Construction Co. of San Rafael to install utilities in Indian Rock Subdivision Unit 1 at the end of The Alameda. Administrator Douglas J. Flautt and project engineer Neil W. Prescott of the George S. Nolte engineering firm reported that everything is in order for the work to begin on the 44-lot subdivision.

Italian Communist Party Gets Leader

ROME (AP)—Luigi Longo, a veteran Communist leader, today formally succeeded the late Palmiro Togliatti as secretary-general of the Italian Communist Party.

As expected, the party elected Longo at a closed meeting on the morning after Togliatti's funeral.

Duane Ragan Appointed To San Anselmo Plans Board

Duane C. Ragan of 457 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, was appointed last night to the San Anselmo Planning Commission to succeed Ronald Hill, who resigned.

Mayor William Franchini named Ragan, with the approval of the other four councilmen.

Ragan, who ran unsuccessfully for city council last April, is a salesman for the Emporium at Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda.

The council also appointed Hugh P. Osborne as junior civil engineer at a salary of $584 per month.

Osborne, a retired Army colonel, has been working on a temporary basis as junior civil engineer for the past two months. A 1932 graduate of Cornell University, Osborne just retired from the Army this year. He lives in Terra Linda.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted against the appointment. He explained he was voting "not against Mr. Osborne but against the position."

Alan K. Loveless of San Rafael was hired as street sweeper operator to succeed Dallas Taylor, who is getting married and plans to move from San Anselmo.

In the city street department, city councilmen promoted Lesley Madsen from maintenance man to equipment operator. He succeeds Bernard Roarty, who steps down to maintenance man after a six-month trial as equipment operator.

Skunk Killed In Belvedere

A skunk was "eliminated" in Belvedere yesterday when it got too close to civilization.

The animal was seen in a culvert under a driveway between Cove Road and the Boardwalk shopping area yesterday afternoon, Belvedere Police Chief William Woodington reported.

It was shot by police officers, who used a shotgun to avoid the chance of a miss or ricochet from a high caliber gun in the populated area. There will be no rabies test because not enough of the skunk is left to be tested, Woodington said.

PRINCIPAL HIRED FROM FRENCH JOB

Reed Trustees Pick Paul Coste, Official Of Air Force Schools

Paul Coste, 41, has returned from teaching Americans in Europe to become principal of Granada School in the Reed School District.

Coste was hired by the school district board last night as principal of the school, now under construction, under a two-year contract at a salary of $13,000 for the first year.

Coste was vice principal and principal for eight years of elementary and high schools operated for U.S. Air Force personnel in Germany and France. For the past two years he has been principal of Chateauroux, a 1,000-pupil elementary school for Air Force dependents in Southern France.

Coste was a school principal in France when Edward C. Pino, now superintendent of Reed District, was superintendent of all Air Force dependent schools there. Coste was hired by letter, telegram and phone, and returned Friday from France.

He taught for seven years at Groton School, a private preparatory school in Massachusetts, and at the Paris American School in France. He has also been a mathematics instructor at University of Maryland.

He was graduated from Harvard University in 1948 and later received a master's degree from the university in mathematics, education and elementary school administration. He has studied also at the University of St. Andrew in Scotland, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and University of London. He is studying for a doctorate from Harvard.

The principal already is participating in a week-long workshop for Granada teachers. Team teaching will be used at the non-graded Granada School expected to be completed in October. The school will have no interior walls, to allow various groupings of children.

Robert Anderson, a professor of education at Harvard University who is leading the workshop, called the Granada construction and teaching methods which will go under its roof one of the "two or three most exciting, most promising" projects in the country.

Speaking to Reed trustees last night, he called the school "potentially the best" of its type.

Hub Workers On Overtime But No Raise

San Anselmo police and firemen will not get another 5 per cent salary raise, but they will receive double time for eight holidays during the year.

The San Anselmo City Council last night decided that would be the simplest and most economical way of solving the problem of holidays, overtime and relief pay.

Two weeks ago and again last night, Councilman Arthur W. Smith suggested that police and firemen, who received a 5 per cent salary raise this year, should be given another 5 per cent raise "in lieu of holiday pay."

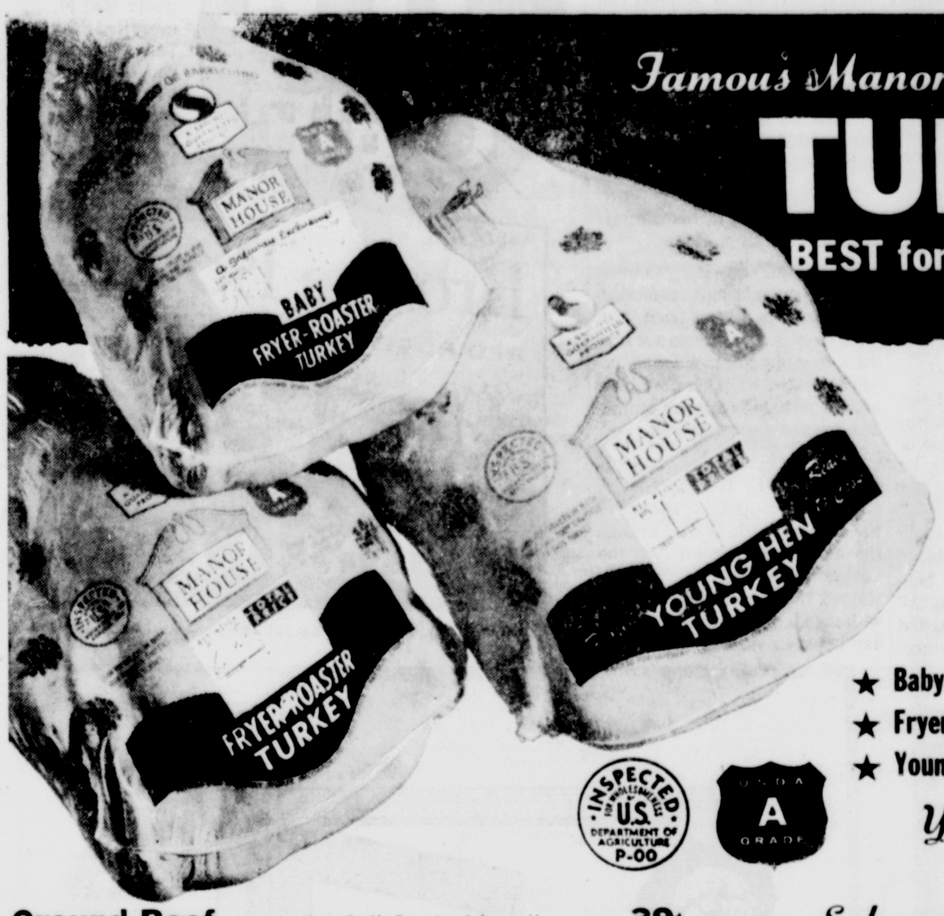

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt reported that another 5 per cent raise would mean $12,195 additional cost to the city for the remaining 10 months of this fiscal year. The cost of paying police and firemen for eight holidays would come to $7,937 for the remaining 10 months. City fathers chose the latter course.

Under the new setup, the chiefs of the police and fire departments will decide who works on what holiday, and all the men from the chief on down will get straight double time for eight holidays per year.

CLEO LEAVES TRAIL OF DEATH

Hurricane Cleo, leaving a trail of death and damage in the Caribbean, emerged from Cuba today with 75 miles per hour winds on a new course that aimed a glancing blow at southeast Florida. Cleo, which killed at least 22 persons and caused millions of dollars of damage in the Dominican Republic, Haiti and Cuba, is expected to pick up strength over the open water of the Florida Straits.

Novato Taxpayer's Bill For Sanitation To Remain Same

Novato Sanitation District Board last night approved a final budget of $33,428, approximately $6,000 less than last year's allocation, with no increase in the total tax rate of 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation paid by Novato residents.

Nearly 80 per cent of the taxes paid by Novatoans will be used for operation of the district. The remaining 20 per cent will be used for retirement of bonds issued for the Novato Sewage Treatment Plant.

Residents of the Ignacio area, which is served by a separate sewage treatment plant, will pay a total of 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation, a two-cent increase over last year's rate, for operation of the district.

In other business, the board approved plans for sewer main extensions for the 16-lot Pinewood subdivision, Unit 3 of the Hillside subdivision, the 125-lot Pleasant Valley subdivision Unit 4 and the 55-lot Hamilton Industrial Park subdivision.

CHP Shifts Men To, From County In Promotions

Lt. Dante Lanza, 43, of Corte Madera, a 14-year member of the California Highway Patrol, will be transferred to Eureka Tuesday to take charge of the patrol's area there.

Lanza, assigned to the Marin office since April, will be promoted to captain. He will be replaced here by Sgt. William L. Porter, formerly of Marin and now in the Eureka office. Porter will be promoted to lieutenant when he returns to Marin.

Lanza, who joined the Highway Patrol in 1950, was promoted to sergeant in 1956 and made lieutenant last year while in San Diego County.

Meeting Due On Sanitation Unit Mergers

Representatives of six sanitation districts in southern Marin, plus the Mill Valley City Council, have been invited to a meeting tonight to discuss a proposal that all services in the area be consolidated into one or a few large districts.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the Civic Center. It was called by the Marin County Local Government Coordinating Committee.

In addition to the Richardson Bay, Almonte, Homestead, Tamalpais Valley, Sausalito-Marin City and Alto sanitary districts, invitations were also sent to the Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board and to representatives of the Frouge Corp., which has announced plans for development of Marincello west of Sausalito.

County Sanitation Director William F. Desmond and engineers for the districts are also expected to be present.

Northern Califonia Johnson Aide Named

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco attorney Louis Garcia has been named chairman of a Northern California committee of Spanish speaking citizens supporting the election of President Lyndon B. Johnson, the president's campaign headquarters announced today.

Garcia is a member of the State Fair Employment Practices Commission and the Federal Small Business Administration.

White Organization Will Be Disbanded

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—William F. Miller, founder and president of the National Association for the Advancement of White People (NAAWP), today planned to meet with Justice Department officials to discuss plans to disband the organization.

Miller announced yesterday he planned to do away with the NAAWP because "it has been taken over by the Ku Klux Klan." Miller was suspended Monday after a meeting of NAAWP trustees in Columbus, Ohio, but he in turn said he had suspended two of the executives who suspended him.

MINUS STAR ARTIST

Prison Art Fete Open House Sunday

One of Marin County's most popular art events, the San Quentin Arts and Crafts Show, will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, but one of the prison's most popular artists will not be there.

Carl J. Pramberg, 37, whose paintings have highlighted the annual show, was paroled yesterday, 15 years after he killed a man in a jealous rage.

Pramberg will go to Danville, Contra Costa County, to work on a ranch. But he intends to keep painting in his spare time and hopes to have a one-man show in about a year.

He left yesterday with $11.63 alloted him by the parole officer, but this, he explained, was nothing compared with the $3,000 in cash and $9,300 he has socked away during his 11-year prison term from sale of paintings.

He sold hundreds of paintings, some for as much as $150. He said he started painting to get things "off my chest. I was very resentful then and it helped me see some good in life."

Fifteen years ago he shot and killed Joseph William Quinn after seeing him talking with his former wife in a Concord tavern.

Sunday's show will put works of 87 inmates on display. Purchases will be on a first-come-first-served basis.

Firemen Seek Furniture Fund

Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry of Sausalito said today he has started a furniture fund to provide additional needed furniture for the city's new firehouse at Highway 101 and Spencer Avenue.

Seven hundred dollars has already been given and $1,000 more is needed, Perry said. The money will be used to buy floor lamps, table lamps, window shades and desks.

Perry said the city provided in its 1964-65 budget money for beds, breakfast furniture and some living room furniture. Persons interested in contributing to the fund may send money in care of the Sausalito fire department or to the City of Sausalito, said Perry.

Trustee Meeting Off

Sausalito School District trustees did not meet last night to discuss racial imbalance at Manzanita School in Marin City. The meeting was set and then cancelled with no further date being set, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today.

Airliner's Landing Gear Collapses

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A Trans World Airliner's landing gear collapsed today as it came down on the main runway of Municipal Airport, but the 130 passengers escaped injury.

Officials said the plane, flight No. 91 from Chicago, skidded "on its belly" for several hundred feet. There was no fire. All the passengers were assisted from the plane within minutes.

Pope Worries On Crumbling Peace Tenets

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) —Pope Paul VI warned today that "some of those basic principles on which peace must be founded" are crumbling.

In an impassioned appeal against an arms race, the Pontiff begged men to remember what caused two devastating world wars, and deplored what he called a return to the "illusory concept that peace can only be based on the terrifying power of extremely homicidal weapons."

Pope Paul said the world is seeing a rebirth of perilous concepts, that the "concept of the sacred and inviolable character of human life" has been obscured.

"Men of good will, listen to our humble words," the Pontiff implored.

The Pope spoke to his weekly general audience at his summer residence south of Rome.

Pope Paul decried "subversive propaganda and revolutionary disorders," and said that even pacifist statements are misused to promote social and political contrasts. This may have been a reference to pro-Communist "peace movements."

Pope Paul said his thoughts were stirred by the current anniversary commemorations of the start of World Wars I and II. He expressed concern at the "acute disagreements, already stained with blood and pregnant with menacing omens existing today between various countries."

Tax Group Is Opposing Bond Issues

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Taxpayers' Assn. has announced its opposition to all three of the bond issues on the general election ballot on Nov. 3 — totaling 790 million dollars.

The CTA, at a recent meeting of its board of directors, also voted to oppose Proposition 16 which would establish a state lottery to be operated by the American Sweepstakes Corp. The directors voted to support Proposition 13, the measure adopted by the legislature which would nullify Proposition 16 if it received more votes. Proposition 13 prohibits the naming of any private corporation in the constitution.

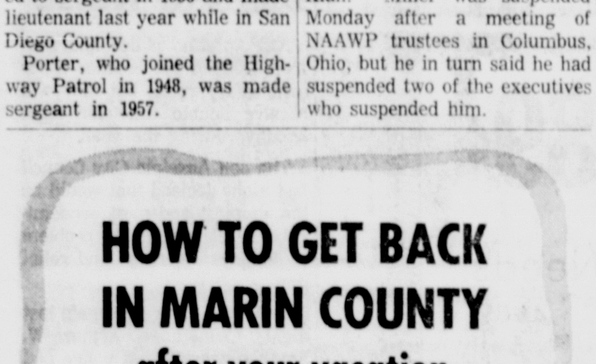

The three bond issues on the November election ballot are Proposition 1, for 150 million dollars for a beach and park acquisition and development program; Proposition 2, providing 380 million dollars for state construction; and Proposition 3, the measure providing 260 million dollars to continue the state's loans to poor school districts.

Jazz To Highlight Fete For Arts Foundation

Jazz will be resounding from Cushing Memorial Theater on Mount Tamalpais starting at 3 p.m. Sunday as part of a six-day festival benefit for the Stinson Beach Arts Foundation.

Called "Jazz on the Mountain and Folk," the program is to be the highlight of the benefit, according to Lyle Leverich of Stinson Beach, founder and general director of the foundation.

The event will feature Vince Guaraldi and his trio, with Bola Sete, the John Coppola-Fred Mergy band, and singing of Malvina Reynolds, folk singer. Gerry Olds will be master of ceremonies.

The benefit will be preceded Saturday with a repertory opera workshop presenting scenes from great operas at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m. at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Other benefit performances will be given Monday, Friday and Saturday of next week, all at the community center.

Funds will be used to build an amphitheater, to be called the Atheneum, near White Gate Ranch at Stinson Beach to be used as a cultural center.

Here, in brief, is the week's benefit program:

Saturday, 2:30 and 8:30 p.m., repertory opera workshop in scenes from great operas with Elizabeth Hinther, Peter Girardot, Elizabeth McArthur, John McHale, Harriette Lambert, Bill Kirby, Theresa Sanroma, Ray Angell, Sue Starck, Norma Lopez and Jack Agnew. The workshop is produced and directed by Arthur Wilson.

Cronkhite Barracks Being Demolished

Ten two-story World War II barracks are being demolished at Fort Cronkhite, the work to be completed by next July 1.

The barracks were declared inadequate by the Department of the Army about four years ago but were continued to be used as quarters for non-commissioned officers families until this year. Doing the dismantling is Abraham Lumber Sales, Richmond, the low bidder.

Mill Valleyans Aid Fund Drive

Two Mill Valley men are among alumni of the University of Chicago who helped raise a record sum of nearly 1.3 million dollars for their alma mater during the 1963-64 academic year.

Joseph E. Sheeks of 21 Monte Vista Avenue was one of three Bay Area chairmen who collected $13,000 from 430 alumni in the area, also a record.

Ascherman Gives Hospital Warning

A process server interrupted a report on volunteer activities at Marin General Hospital last night and dumped a notice of hearing into the laps of three district board members.

The Marin Hospital District board was thus warned that Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman of San Francisco would seek immediate relief pending further litigation to the board's rulings that he not be admitted to the staff of the hospital and that the hearing on the refusal be ended.

Ascherman, in the cross-complaint to the board's filing a declaratory relief action in Marin Superior Court asking that the court decide whether he had the necessary qualifications to be admitted to the hospital, put the board on notice that he, through his attorney Harry Gonick, would go to Superior Court Monday and ask that three steps be taken.

These would be to issue a writ of mandate directing that he be admitted to the hospital, that the hearing officer be directed to proceed with the hearing and that a temporary injunction be granted to prohibit the board from interfering with the completion of the hearing.

Ascherman, who has suits totaling six million dollars pending in San Francisco against doctors and hospitals who allegedly conspired to keep him from practicing in five hospitals, was refused surgical privileges at the hospital.

A hearing was begun, as required by the hospital district's by-laws. It was called off by the board because witnesses for the district refused to testify at the hearing because of lack of immunity.

The board adjourned into an executive session last night for 35 minutes. After the closed meeting, the board voted unanimously to reject the claim for $250 a day general damages and $250 a day punitive damages filed by Ascherman.

The Marin Hospital District board also:

1. Endorsed the Kentfield master plan and noted that it approved the moving of Bon Air Road to the west to allow the hospital to buy land for parking.

2. Heard that Dr. Roger Hedin has been named assistant chief of staff at the hospital.

3. Wrote off $6,883.70 in bad debts.

4. Noted that the deadline for filing petitions of candidacy for the two board terms which will expire is midnight Saturday and not 5 p.m. Friday as had previously been thought.

Pro-Barry Sign Gets Fast Reply

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A new sign went up along the boardwalk in this Democratic convention city today to checkmate one supporting the Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Before the Democratic convention opened, Republicans installed a huge billboard picturing Goldwater and the words "in your heart, you know he's right."

As soon as the sun rose today, workmen began installing a sign of similar lettering directly under the Goldwater sign. It read: "Yes — extreme right."

The workmen said the new sign was made by the same New York company that prepared the Goldwater sign but they did not know who ordered it.

Barry Takes It Easy Fishing, Having Fun

AVALON, Catalina Island (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater cruised the Catalina Channel today, assured of at least one sure catch: a school of newsmen.

The Republican presidential candidate said he would meet reporters today aboard his borrowed yacht, an 83-foot converted PT boat, at Avalon Harbor.

Goldwater's craft rumbled out of the Balboa Bay Club dock at Newport Beach yesterday soon after he arrived here for a six-day vacation "to fish and to not shave and have a good time."

His wife, Peggy, had flown in earlier and greeted him when his jet-powered executive transport touched down at Orange County Airport. Mrs. Goldwater is with the Arizona senator on the yacht Sundance.

His vacation plans were as free as the whims of winds and tides — not even his landlocked aides at Newport Beach knew where the Sundance would take the Goldwater party. His secretary told a newsman:

"All I know is that I'm supposed to see him Sept. 1 on an airplane heading east."

Two other couples and a professional crew were aboard the Sundance, loaned Goldwater by a Beverly Hills real estate investor. The twin-engined boat is powerful enough to outstrip almost everything afloat, and fans and newsmen hoping to catch a glimpse of the senator may have to wait to do so when he slips back into port for fuel.

Commendation Medal

S/Sgt. Philip H. Moon of 230 Marin Road, Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the Air Force commendation medal for his service as drill sergeant of the "Flying Rifles," a precision and novelty drill team, from April, 1963, to June of this year. He is assigned to the Air Defense Command installation at Hamilton.

Youth Claims He Tried To Shoot Johnson

TUCSON, Ariz., (UPI)—Federal agents today questioned a Tennessee man who claims he tried to take shots at the White House three times.

Jimmy Eugene Smith, 23, of Bristol, Tenn., was arrested by railroad police for loitering Friday night after jumping from a freight train he had boarded in Los Angeles.

Detectives said Smith told them he had a fight with four Negroes in Washington, D.C., several weeks ago. He was quoted as saying it was then he decided to shoot the president, whom he regards as a Negro sympathizer.

Smith allegedly told police he went to the White House and drew a bead on a person at a window on the second floor where the president lives. Smith said he was not able to shoot because there were too many pedestrians in the area, police said.

GOP Group Unanimously Backs Slate At All Levels

All factions of the Marin County Republican Central Committee joined forces last night to vote a unanimous endorsement of all Republican candidates from Sen. Barry Goldwater on down.

The GOP central committee met at the San Rafael courthouse, with Gerald E. Misner presiding.

William O. Weissich, county chairman for Goldwater, introduced a resolution supporting all GOP candidates, both state and national.

Mrs. Lee Sherry, who supported Nelson A. Rockefeller in the June primary election, seconded Weissich's motion.

James Crumpacher, publicity co-chairman, reported that the vote was unanimous. About 35 Republicans attended the meeting last night.

"We are working to get all Republicans registered by the Sept. 10 registration date," said Crumpacher.

Mill Valley To See Waterfront Plan

The Mill Valley planning commission will see the first preview and consider the design of the East Mill Valley general plan at a workshop meeting at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the City Hall.

Under consideration, said commission chairman Robert C. Mountjoy, will be the Mill Valley portion of Richardson Bay frontage which the board of supervisors recently acted upon. The supervisors adopted Marin Conservation League's plan asking for less fill and more open water than had been recommended by the Marin county planning commission.

East German Escapes In Gory Drama

NAILA, Germany (UPI) — An East German refugee, his foot blown off by a communist mine, crawled to safety in the West today.

Police were alerted to the refugee's plight by his children, who ran into this border town shortly after midnight pleading with everyone they met to help their father.

Police found the screaming refugee entangled in comunist barbed wire.

Border guards on the other side of the mine-infested death strip, were shouting at the man: "Don't move or we'll shoot!"

The East Germans apparently did not dare cross the mine-sown "death strip" for fear of their own mines.

They fired several shots near the injured man, but they were apparently not aimed at him.

The refugee began to crawl, while the West German police kept their rifles pointed at the Reds.

Finally he reached the demarcation line, and the western police pulled him across. He was hospitalized in critical condition.

Guard Sends Out Fishing Boat Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coast Guard ships and planes today went to the aid of the 40-foot fishing boat Sundowner which reported it was taking on water 50 miles west of Fort Bragg.

Names of the Sundowner's two-man crew and her home port were not immediately known, according to a spokesman for search and rescue headquarters here.

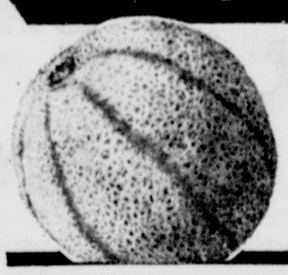

Another fishing boat, the Verna, was reported standing by the disabled Sundowner and relayed her distress message.

CHANGE OF PURSUITS—David R. Lawrence, who will retire at month's end from the Internal Revenue Service, looks over manual of instructions for use of electric saw given him as retirement present by fellow employees. His job since 1925 has involved catching liquor violators—first those who violated the 18th Amendment, and since 1933, those who didn't pay taxes on the grog they made.

RECALLS BOOTLEGGERS

Marinite Ends Long War On Moonshine

Bootleggers, hijackers, speakeasies and rum runners were operating full steam when David R. Lawrence, 62, of San Rafael, started his career as a prohibition agent 38 years ago.

Lawrence will end his long war against liquor violations when he retires Monday as chief of the enforcement branch of the Internal Revenue Service's Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division in San Francisco.

Lawrence, who raided speakeasies, rousted bootleggers and searched for hidden stills, said he doesn't think prohibition will ever return.

"It wouldn't have been too bad if it were just the violators we had to fight, but we had to fight everybody. We were fighting public opinion," he recalled.

There were so many violations of the prohibition law that it was a hopeless job to track down all of them, so agents tried to concentrate on the big stills, Lawrence said.

"In those days, Marin County was not so much a problem of local violations, but a lot of smuggled stuff was coming in by sea," he said. "Large, loaded vessels would wait offshore and speedboats would bring the illegal liquor in at night, often in bad weather."

Liquor was hidden in secret compartments in cars, behind false panels in walls, under trap doors and in attics, he said.

The prohibition law was repealed in 1933, but agents were still catching bootleggers for the next seven to eight years, Lawrence said.

A native of Illinois, Lawrence was a lad when his family moved to Los Angeles in 1906.

After attending Los Angeles city schools and University of California at Los Angeles, he transferred to Stanford University. He was offered a job as a prohibition agent in 1925 through a friend of a family friend.

"It sounded interesting, and I figured I'd give it a year or two, and by that time, I was hooked," he said.

Lawrence spent his early career alternating between the Los Angeles and San Francisco offices, gaining a promotion to special agent along the way.

Then came a promotion to aide to the supervisor of enforcement in 1937, and he transferred to the San Francisco office where he is ending his career.

During World War II, he served in the Army, and upon discharge he settled in Marin County, first in San Anselmo in 1945 and then San Rafael in 1949.

During World War II most of the enforcement work involved black market liquor and price hiking, he said.

"I got back at the end of World War II and from then on, it was pretty dry; cases were few and far between," he said. Lawrence was named chief of the enforcement branch, which covers 10 western states including Alaska and Hawaii, in 1955.

He left his desk last week to finish out his time on terminal leave. He has been writing "thank-you" notes to those who gave him a farewell party and answering telephone calls from well-wishers, but plans to do a little fishing one of these days.

Lawrence, his wife, Una, and daughter, Geri, live at 8 Alexander Avenue.

Paradise Beach Park Plan Is Approved

The Marin County Park and Recreation District, in a short special meeting last night, approved the addition of rest rooms as an alternate in plans for first phase development of Paradise eBach Park, near Tiburon.

The final plans, with the alternate, were approved and sent to the board of supervisors for a call for bids. Commissioners Gibbs Lawson, Helen Newman and James M. Fletcher were present and voted for the plans. Adele Alpers and Mrs. Charles P. Davies were absent.

San Anselmo Tax Rate Up 10 Cents; Staff Expanded

San Anselmo last night set a tax rate of $2.03 for this fiscal year, which means a 10-cent rise over last year's $1.93 per $100 assessed valuation.

The $2.03 rate was set to meet the proposed $872,000 budget, which is about $172,000 higher than last year's total budget.

The new budget includes $24,000 to cover the 5 per cent salary raise given police and firemen, $7,182 for a new junior civil engineer, and hiring of a fulltime parks and recreation director next Jan. 1.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted against the new tax rate. He said he dissented because the new engineer and a fulltime parks and recreation director are included. Smith has been a staunch foe of any expansion of the engineer's staff and a fulltime parks and recreation director.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Set a meeting for 8 p.m. next Tuesday to discuss drainage, fire protection and roads. Councilman John M. Reichmuth suggested the meeting, pointing out that many subdivisions are being approved without adequate access roads, drainage, and water lines for fire fighting.

2. Heard a complaint from Harold Matteucci, owner of Knot Inn, that construction at the Hub intersection is creating dust and depriving citizens of parking space. Mayor William Franchini asked Administrator Douglas J. Flautt to look into the matter.

3. Decided that the city hall telephone switchboard should remain in the police department. The city administrator reported that routing all incoming calls through the police department is the most efficient and economical system. Two weeks ago, Councilman Cedric Clute had asked why there was no direct line into the city administrative offices.

4. Postponed until next year calling of bids for a new storm sewer line on Ross Avenue from Kensington Avenue to Corte Madera Creek. City fathers decided that enough streets are torn up already, and the installation of the Ross sewer line should wait until after the rains.

5. Asked the city planning commission to set up a joint meeting with the council to discuss land use and possible rezoning of the Town Center Plan. The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce urged the city to rezone the 77-acre shopping area into a "planned development district" to prevent spot zoning.

New Tam Students

New students coming at Tamalpais High School may register this week from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. except Thursday and next week by appointment. Students who enrolled last spring but wish to change their program should make these changes prior to school opening, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

County, City Fathers To Hear Transit Idea

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will be host tonight to city representatives and heads of chambers of commerce for a meeting on the needs of commuters.

The engineering firm of De Leuw, Cather and Co., will present a proposal for a $90,000 study of commute problems dealing with the Golden Gate Bridge. The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

The firm will discuss various ways of gaining improved transit service and what kind of study would be needed for the preliminary planning. A time schedule and fee arrangements will also be discussed.

The board and city representatives will also hear a discussion of the Marin County Transit District law and of new federal legislation providing funds for local transit needs.

GUILTY
of upsetting the sugar-cart!

The giant sugar interests have launched a national propaganda campaign against the trend to sugar-free beverages led by Diet-Rite Cola.

If it's wrong to do millions of people a favor by taking the sugar out of cola...
Diet-Rite pleads guilty.

Diet-Rite Cola pleads guilty.

If it's wrong to bring you the best cola you've ever tasted and to do it without sugar...
Diet-Rite pleads guilty.

If it's wrong to start a cola revolution that more and more families are joining each week...
Diet-Rite pleads guilty.

But judge for yourself.
Taste-test sugar-free Diet-Rite against any other cola—sugar-free or sugar-full.
You'll find Diet-Rite Cola is winner by a mile.
Maybe that's why the sugar people are so nervous.

Mill Valley Planners Oppose 2 Rezonings

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night recommended the city council deny a request of Charles Tijerina of Belvedere to subdivide 11.5 acres on Alto Vista Avenue extension into 25 lots for single-family residences.

Chairman Robert C. Mountjoy said the commission believes there would be a much better development if the land were zoned "planned residential, single family," and considered with other land owned by Tijerina on both sides of the 11.5 acres.

Planning Consultant John D. Erickson said the subdivision would create densities in excess of that proposed in the master plan; that the major roadway, Alta Vista, would be inadequate in width, and that it is in excess of the required slope percentage of grade.

Commissioners also reaffirmed their stand that the property of Heinz Scheuenstuhl at 320 Miller Avenue should not be rezoned from professional-administrative to community shopping but remain as is. The commission said it would be receptive to permitting a variance to permit the use of a florist shop at the location, as suggested by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan.

It recommended that property on the upper side of West Blithedale Avenue between Hillside and Oakdale Avenues be rezoned duplex from apartment zoning.

White House Theater To Be TV Studio

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House movie theater will be converted into a television studio for the use of President Lyndon B. Johnson within the next few weeks.

The studio, to be located in the basement of the east wing of the White House, will be financed by the three major television networks — American Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System, and the National Broadcasting Co.

Production and technical crews will be on standby duty there every day except Sunday.

Johnson became nettled earlier this year when he had to drive across Washington to a television studio to announce an agreement that averted the threat of a nationwide rail strike

Burch Finds Convention A Big Bore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch described the Democratic National Convention today as a depressing spectacle.

In a statement, he said:

"The same tired old faces are presenting the same tired old ideas—with the baleful eye of Lyndon Johnson looking down disapprovingly over the whole proceeding. It is a synthetic recital of the Johnson record put on by cynical politicians.

"John Bailey (the Democratic national chairman) had better do something quick to liven up this 'turkey' or he'll bore the TV viewers to death.

"The slogan says 'Let us continue.'

"It would be more merciful to say 'Let us get it over with.' "

Man Pleads Innocent In Trespassing Case

Eugene Schettler, 23, of Petaluma, pleaded innocent in West Marin Justice Court today to a charge that he trespassed with the intention to hunt on the Ottenger Ranch in Inverness Aug. 10.

Trial before Judge David R. Baty was scheduled for next Wednesday.

Novato May Boost Fees To Non-Resident Swimmers

Residents of the City of Novato and the Novato Unified School District may pay lower fees for use of the swimming pool at Novato High School than non-residents.

The Novato parks and recreation advisory commission last night urged the city council to set higher rates for non-residents, according to E. O. Mahany, parks and recreation department director.

The group accepted a proposed agreement between the city and the school district on joint use and construction of future recreational facilities. The matter will be reviewed by commission members before their next meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 14 at the Novato Community House.

The commission agreed to continue holding regular meetings on the first and third Mondays of every month, but set Sept. 14 as its next meeting date because the first Monday of next month is Labor Day.

Discussion on renovation of the Community House was continued until the next meeting because a report on the project had not been completed.

Commissioners suggested that the chairmen of the planning and parks and recreation commissions meet with City Administrator J. Julien Baget to discuss the recreation commission's role in park planning.

Motor Vehicles New Building Contract Given

Contract for $221,980 to build a new, one-story branch office in Corte Madera for the State Department of Motor Vehicles was awarded yesterday to Walter F. Olsen Co. of Santa Rosa by the State Office of Architecture and Construction.

The new building will be located on Tamal Vista Boulevard, adjacent to Highway 101. It will be steel and concrete construction with a reinforced brick and cement plaster exterior. Parking area for 130 cars, and 7,100 square feet of floor space are planned.

Olsen was declared lowest of six bidders on Aug. 5, but contract award was delayed because the state had budgeted only $180,000 for the job, and additional funds had to be allocated, according to a department spokesman.

Free Chinese Dentist Seeks MD Rank, Too

If you are going to become a dentist in Nationalist China you may as well try for a degree in medicine, too.

That is the conclusion of Dr. Hsu Hui-Hung, a major in the Nationalist Chinese Air Force who has been doing post graduate work at the 78th Air Force Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Dr. Hui-Hung has been in the United States since February, studying at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas and Gunter Air Force Base in Georgia before coming to Marin.

"Pulling a tooth was a tough job in my native homeland," he said. "That's because dentists had no prestige."

Dr. Hui-Hung grew up in Shanghai and moved with his family to Taiwan shortly before the Communists took over the mainland.

"I recall our dentists standing on the corner of streets of towns or villages treating patients in a wooden chair. They would rub herb juice on the gums and then grab the tooth with fingers or knuckles and yank.

"The show always attracted a large crowd to watch the patient suffer."

Things are different in Nationalist China today. Dentists, having learned surgery, enjoy a "very high status" among the professions, he said.

The dentist will join the general staff of the Nationalist Chinese Air Force on his return to Taiwan. He is here under the U.S. Military Assistance Program.

Negroes Accepted At White School

SAND SPRINGS, Okla. (UPI)— Five Negro students who filed a federal suit last Friday seeking enrollment in Charles Page High School were accepted yesterday by the Sand Springs School District board.

The board, in a secret meeting, approved transfer of six Negro students from the all-Negro Booker T. Washington High School to Page.

U.S. Plane Hit

BUKAVU, The Congo (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport plane was hit by rebel gunfire yesterday and crash landed across the border in Rwanda, informed sources said today. There was no immediate indication whether there were casualties.

Day School Gym Plan Is Approved

The Corte Madera Board of Design Monday approved plans for a gymnasium on the grounds of Marin Country Day School at 5221 Paradise Drive.

Headmaster Peter Rathermel said today the gymnasium was part of a program which would eventually include turfing the school's playground, additions to the gymnasium, and possible inclusion of facilities for high school education. The school presently goes through the eighth grade.

The gymnasium, a 125-by-70 foot building, will house athletic facilities and serve as a center for the school's performing arts programs. There will be a main basketball court and two side courts, along with a platform for dance activities and classroom instruction.

Construction on the gymnasium, estimated to cost about $100,000, will begin in mid-September, Tathermel said.

The Corte Madera Board of Design also:

1. Approved plans for a building to house J and B Motors of Mill Vailley on Paradise Drive next to the Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet Agency.

2. Disapproved revised plans for landscaping at the Campbell-Bishop agency and insisted that original plans be followed.

3. Approved plans for a new corporation yard for the Marin Municipal Water District on Tamal Vista Drive behind the present office building.

4. Approved plans for a commercial building at 5643 Paradise Drive submitted by Cal-Marin Properties Inc.

Salinger Due At Fashion Show

Pierre Salinger, newly appointed United States senator and Democratic candidate in the November election, will attend a fund-raising fashion show for his campaign next month in Kent Woodlands.

The show is scheduled for 4 to 7 p.m. Sept. 19 at the Roger Kent estate on Woodland Road.

Salinger's Marin County campaign committee is sponsoring the $6.50-per-couple party, featuring champagne and hors d'oeuvres, and a fashion display.

Mrs. George Caulfield of Mill Valley, publicity chairman, announced that tickets may be obtained from Democratic headquarters.

Women To Act As Registrars

Others will be at the Lucky Store in Fairfax during the same hours Sept. 4 and 5. One registrar will be at the Emporium in the Northgate Shopping Center on Friday.

Deadline for registration is Sept. 10.

The bank will operate from temporary quarters in the Northgate Shopping Center until a permanent location is decided upon.

Directors have increased initial capitalization from 1.5 to 2.5 million dollars, which is expected to provide a better distribution of stock among Marin County residents.

Incorporators are Irving D. Chapman, Samuel W. Gardiner (recently appointed to the Marin Superior Court by Gov. Edmund G. Brown), Dr. Matthew E. Hazeltine, Edgar T. Lindner, San Rafael mayor John F. McInnis, Thomas D. Minto, John F. O'Connell, Eugene A. Ostaggi, and A. Von Rotz.

A CHANGE in assistant vice presidents at the San Rafael office of Bank of America brings in Orville E. Helgeson from Palo Alto to replace Roger T. Duncan, who is moving to the San Francisco headquarters.

Helgesen was assistant cashier in Palo Alto before his promotion. He started with Bank of America in 1946. He and his wife, Zelda, and their son, Douglas Alan, will live in San Rafael.

Duncan has been promoted to assistant vice president in the corporate finance section in San Francisco. He will continue to reside in San Rafael.

A LARGE CONTINGENT of Marin County pharmacists will be among more than 5,000 druggists attending the annual National Assn. of Retail Druggists' convention in San Francisco Oct. 4-8, according to Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn. president Robert Satterthwaite of Corte Madera Pharmacy. Convention headquarters will be in the new San Francisco Hilton Hotel, with activities being held at Brooks Hall.

Satterthwaite said pre-registration for the convention may be made through association offices at 525 Market Street, San Francisco, or directly to national offices at 1 East Wacker Drive, Chicago.

THERE IS PLENTY of government land available through lease or purchase for vacation cabins or campsites, according to the National Outdoor Council of Washington, D.C. The only trouble is, the burden of locating it lies with the individual citizen—and it isn't easy.

Approximately one-third of the acreage of the United States is still public domain. Any citizen or person who has declared his intention to become a citizen is eligible to buy or lease small tracts (not in excess of five acres each) under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938. Continuous residence on the tract is not required.

But comprehensive lists of such lands are not available from the government, although often the land records maintained by county assessors show locations of public lands.

Application forms are available from the Bureau of Land Management Office. Details are contained in the booklet, "Small Tracts," available for 15 cents from the Government Printing Office or Information Office, Box 2353, Washington, D.C.

Banks Watchdog Raps Mail Order Auto Financing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state superintendent of banks today protested a move by Sears, Roebuck and Co. to go into auto financing in California.

Supt. John A. O'Kane asked State Corporation Commissioner Charles E. Rickershauser to hold public hearings on the application filed by Sears last week. Rickershauser said he would. The hearing is expected to be in October.

O'Kane said he would also consult with the attorney general about Sears plans.

"The Sears competition will be immediate," O'Kane said, "and the impact on the banking industry will be terrific."

Sears' application asked the Corporations Commission for permission to establish an industrial loan company in California. Sears said activities would be restricted to auto financing.

Dull Trading Closes Stock Market Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly lower today in dull trading.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.6 million shares compared with 3.77 million yesterday.

Losses of key stocks, running from fractions to about a point, outnumbered losers.

As Wall Street waited for some sign as to whether an auto strike would be called next Monday, the list put on a wobbly performance without much conviction either on the buy or sell side.

Du Pont and General Electric were off about a point each.

Moderate losses were shown by such stocks as Anaconda, Kennecott, Goodyear, Allied Chemical, American Can and Eastern Air Lines.

Johns-Manville (ex-dividend) lost more than a point.

Sperry Rand was easy and looked like the most active stock as it faced selling pressure following news of resignations from its Univac division.

Chrysler also was actively traded, pushing ahead nearly a point after motors firmed following early irregularity. General Motors erased a loss and moved slightly higher.

IBM also canceled a loss and rose more than a point. Similar gains were made by Polaroid and U.S. Smelting. Control Data added 2.

Hendley Opposes Drysdale In Giant-Dodger Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was the next to the last day of the 1958 season and right - hander Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox was seeking his 250th major league victory in a game against Kansas City.

He didn't get it. The White Sox were beaten that day by a young right-hander who still remembers the game in some detail.

"Early Wynn just happened to be my boyhood idol," he says. "I was kind of stage-struck. It was my first year in pro ball and I hadn't come up to the A's until late in the season. And there I was, pitching against Wynn.

"I think I had a no-hitter for 7 2-3 innings. Then Nellie Fox broke it up. But I beat 'em 2-1."

Early Wynn won 51 games after that, ending his playing career with an even 300 victories, and has since spent about a season as a coach for the Cleveland Indians.

But Howie Reed, the pitcher who beat the White Sox that day in 1958, had to wait nearly six years for his next major league victory.

He got it last night, when the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the San Francisco Giants 3-1.

"I started the 1959 season with Portland in the Coast League," Reed recalls, "and was about 7-2 after a month and a half. The A's brought me up in June. I lost a couple of close ones, then missed a couple of weeks with a finger blister, got bombed in Boston and was back in Portland."

The Dodgers got Reed and $40,000 for pitcher Ed Rakow in 1961, but didn't call Howie up from the minors until this season—and started him only once before last night.

Reed, now 27, was working on a six-hitter after eight innings. But he walked pinch hitter Chuck Hiller and Matty Alou with one away in the ninth and Ron Perranoski was called in to pitch to Hal Lanier.

Lanier flied out and Bob Miller replaced Perranoski, ending the game by striking out Willie Mays.

There was also a story in San Francisco's pitching. Juan Marichal, the brilliant right-hander, made his first start since July 29 and took the loss, his sixth in 21 decisions.

Marichal, who had been idled by a back ailment, worked five innings, allowed 7 of the 10 Dodger hits and struck out three while walking two.

"He pitched real good," said San Francisco Manager Alvin Dark. "We just made some bad plays behind him. He threw all right."

Marichal told one reporter his back gave him no trouble during the game. But another newsman said Marichal told him the back did bother him.

The loss was only the fourth for San Francisco in 15 games with Los Angeles this season. It knocked the Giants out of second place and kept them 6½ games back of the leader, Philadelphia.

"The Philadelphia club can still be had," Dark said. "If we don't do it, Cincinnati can. It just depends on which club wants to win the most."

Marichal knocked in San Francisco's only run last night with a second-inning single. It scored Jim Hart, who had walked.

A bases-loaded infield single by Reed tied it in the second. The Dodgers got the deciding run in the third, when Willie Davis reached first on an error by Orlando Cepeda, took second on an infield out and scored on a single by Tom Davis.

Singles by Maury Wills and Willie Davis and a sacrifice fly by Ron Fairly produced another run in the fifth.

Tonight, in the final game of the series, the Giants will start Bob Hendley, 10-8, against Don Drysdale, 13-13. Drysdale has lost his last four decisions.

The game will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 8 o'clock.

LATE ARRIVAL — Dodger rightfielder Derrell Griffith was out trying to advance to third base on Ron Fairly's single last night, as Giant third baseman Jim Hart took the throw from second sacker Hal Lanier and got the nod from umpire Augie Donatelli. Los Angeles stalled Giants' comeback bid with 3-1 win at Dodger Stadium. (AP Wirephoto)

Rich Carling Golf Tourney Gets Underway Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Arnold Palmer has the putting "yips", Jack Nicklaus has a crook in his elbow, and Ken Venturi has nothing but confidence and an uncanny feeling for the flag.

So it's Venturi, the reigning National Open champion, and not the Big Two who will be favored when 155 golfers from 14 nations tee off tomorrow in the first $200,000 Carling World Championship.

First prize in the 72-hole, four-day test is $35,000, a year's salary for many top executives, and it's the kind of purse which usually brings out the best in the blacksmith-strong Palmer and power-driving Nicklaus.

However, both are off top form — Palmer on the putting greens and Nicklaus on the tees — while Venturi is currently the hottest article on the circuit.

After three years of frustration during which he almost gave up the game, the 33-year-old picture swinger from San Francisco found himself in the National Open last June in Washington's suffocating heat. His confidence has been soaring ever since.

Venturi won the American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio, last week by a record five shots and with a record tournament score of 275.

Tuning up for the event here over the 6,907-yard, par 70 Oakland Hills course he had four straight birdies on the front nine for a four-under-par 31, then birdied the 11th and eagled the 566-yard 12th to go seven under.

"I started thinking then that this was just a practice run, and I didn't want to get a monkey on my back before the tournament started," Ken said. "So I sluffed off a few holes and finished with about 67.

"I am playing so well, I am so sure of myself on shots to the green that it startles me."

Palmer, who has had four second places and two thirds in his last six tournaments, continued to experiment with beat up, lead-headed putters without finding a satisfactory one.

"From five feet in, I uesd to never miss a putt," Palmer said. "Now I miss them, and it's costing me."

Nicklaus, also beaten out in recent tournaments although he continues as the year's leading money winner, thinks he has found the reason for his erratic driving.

"I was crooking my left arm," he said. "I even noticed that my divots were hooking."

The tournament brings together 48 handpicked golfers from 13 countries outside the United States who had to surive qualifying tests.

Outstanding foreign threats are Gary Player of South Africa, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle of Australia.

Nineteen ex-PGA and 11 former U.S. Open champions are in the field, including Ben Hogan, who won the third of his four Opens over the same course back in 1951.

Charley Fox, Another Possible Manager For The S.F. Giants?

CONNOLLY

It is not impossible but highly improbable for the S.F. Giants to win the 1964 pennant. The only ray of hope is to look back to the 1951 race when the Giants trailed the Dodgers 13½ games on August 12 and caught them by winning 39 of their last 47 games. If lightning strikes twice for the Giants it is just about the same picture.

Between now and the end of the season you'll hear all sorts of rumors, read all sorts of stories about the club's tailspin. But none speak so boldly as the pitching and batting averages. The only two players who hit as they were expected to hit are Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays. Juan Marichal alone is the pitcher who delivered, until he was injured, as he was expected to deliver.

MANAGER AL Dark has kept quiet on his 1965 plans and so have the Giants, so that official story is as dead right now as yesterday's newspaper. That something might take place is taken for granted, and it'll be no surprise if Cookie Lavagetto, now coach, moves in, if and when Dark is let go. The only problem about Cookie is whether his health will permit his extra duties.

A former National League manager and scout was asked recently who he would pick if he was asked. He hestitated awhile then declared "I'd pick a fellow who has had some experience managing, not someone right off the bench."

AND THAT, of course, has a lot of merit. One of this type of managers is Charley Fox, now at Tacoma and with whom most of the Giant players are familiar.

Fox is a Giant product. He has walked through the ranks and has performed nobly and successfully. And above all Fox is a fellow well liked by all the Giant players. Newspapermen also like Charley, who can spin a yarn with any of 'em.

IT IS pretty hard to predict what will happen to Bo Belinsky, the great pitcher and matchmaker, recently suspended by the Los Angeles Angels for slugging a sportswriter.

To one who has worked side-by-side with Braven Dyer, the mixup doesn't make sense. Dyer is neither a drinking nor a fighting man. And for him to clinch his fists and ring door bells at 2 a.m. looking for a fight with a kid young enough to be his son is beyond reason.

THIS SLUGGING business by athletes, if it becomes contagious, could be real cause for alarm, especially for those too old to fight and too fat to run.

Whattaya suppose would happen in the fight ranks if the champs and near champs dislike what their critics say. Wouldn't it be nice if Sonny Liston or Cassius Clay decided to clean up on the fight scribes?

Starn Wins In Norcal Golf Action

George Starn of Fairfax advanced through the first two rounds of the Northern California Golf Assn. Amateur Match Play championships yesterday at the Silverado Country Club in Napa, but Kai Thomsen of Novato, Marin's other entry in the championship flight, lost in the second round after winning his first match.

Starn defeated Thomas Smith on the 19th hole in the morning and came back to clip Roger Manwell 3 and 2 in the afternoon. Thomsen tipped Jesse Crawford 4 and 2, but lost to Bob Smith 3 and 2.

Three Marin players teed off yesterday in first flight action, but only one made it to the second round. Thomas Burkell of Sausalito defeated A. P. Carroll 1 up, but his son Dennis lost to Bill Struckmeyer 2 and 1 and Al Leach of Novato was beaten by association president George Gnau 1 up.

Pizarro Hurls 1-0 White Sox Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Juan Pizarro has been a potential 20-game winner since he started throwing rocks in Santurce, P.R., 11 years ago.

Al Lopez is betting a World Series ticket that the White Sox left-hander makes the charmed circle in 1964.

Pizarro pitched Chicago to within a game of first place last night when he blanked Minnesota 1-0 on a masterful five-hitter. The victory was No. 17, tops in the American League, for the 27-year-old fireballer and the shutout lowered his earned run average to a brilliant 2.00.

He has never been this close to the 20-victory mark before, though tagged "another Bob Feller" before he had thrown a pitch in anger in the major leagues.

Juan started the 1954 Winter League season as the Santurce club's batboy but wound up on the pitching staff when he discovered he could fling rocks harder than the team's pitchers could throw baseballs.

Two years later he was Milwaukee's prize farmhand, striking out 318 batters for the Braves' Jacksonville club in the old Sally League. The Braves had paid Santurce $35,000 for his contract, but they never got a return on their investment.

Pizarro and the Milwaukee management suffered through four season with equally unimpressive results. The southpaw flopped each spring, was demoted to the minors — where he was virtually unbeatable — and finished each season in the Braves' bullpen.

Finally, in 1960, the Braves traded him to the White Sox and Lopez made him reclamation project No. 1. Pizarro has been a winner ever since.

Elsewhere in the AL last night, Cleveland upended league-leading Baltimore 5-3; third place New York topped Washington 4-1; Los Angeles defeated Kansas City 5-3 and Detroit slugged Boston 11-6.

Pizarro, 17-6, pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the top of the ninth before the White Sox broke through lefty Dick Stigman in the bottom of the inning.

Stigman checked the Sox on three hits until Jim Landis led off the ninth with a single. One out later, Floyd Robinson singled. Bill Skowron lined out before Ron Hansen broke it up with a run-scoring hit to left.

It was the 10th complete game and fourth shutout for Pizarro, who was a spring holdout untii March 25, but got off to the best start of his career, reeling off five successive victories.

The Indians struck for five runs in the eighth inning, the last three on Bob Chance's two-run homer and Leon Wagner's solo shot, to overtake Baltimore.

Orioles starter Milt Pappas gave up Cleveland's fourth hit of the game, a double to Tito Francona, and walked Woody Held before being replaced by Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Max Alvis' pinch single scored one run, Chico Salmon singled, loading the bases, and the second run crossed while Dick Howser was grounding into a double play. Then Chance and Wagner connected back-to-back.

Luis Aparicio's two-run homer had helped the Orioles to a 3-0 lead.

Whitey Ford won his first game since July 15 when the Yankees came from behind with four runs in the eighth. Mickey Mantle's third hit of the night, a two-run double, was the key blow.

Ford worked eight innings, leaving for a pinch hitter in the Yankees' winning rally. Al Downing nailed down the victory by fanning the side in the ninth.

Dean Chance picked up his 15th victory of the season as the Angels did all their scoring in the fifth inning, with singles by Bobby Knoop, Albie Pearson and Lou Clinton, plus a bases-loaded walk and wild pitch delivering the runs.

Bob Lee relieved Chance in the seventh, when the Athletics scored their last two runs on Doc Edwards' single, Bert Campaneris' triple and a pinch single by Manny Jimenez.

Don Demeter's three-run homer in the sixth paced Detroit's 15-hit attack against the Red Sox. Demeter's 18th circuit broke a 6-6 tie and the Tigers wrapped it up with two more in the seventh after Carl Yastrzemski's two-base error opened the gate.

Dick McAuliffe also homered for Detroit while Dick Stuart, Ed Bressoud and Bob Tillman connected for the Red Sox.

Rafael Osuna Loses To San Diego Netter

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Rafael Osuna, Mexican Davis Cup star, has returned to the United States to defend his national tennis title at Forest Hills and his pride.

Although beaten yesterday in the first round of the Meadow Club International Tournament by Rod Susman of San Diego, Calif., 6-3, 6-4, Osuna was more concerned about published statements saying he preferred European tournaments over the U.S. doubles championships because of more liberal expense money.

Osuna flatly denied this. He said he and his Mexican Davis Cup partner, Antonio Palafox, had arranged two months before the Davis Cup match with Australia to play in Hamburg, West Germany, if the Mexicans lost.

"We never entered the U.S. doubles championship at Longwood," said Osuna. "More than that they never contacted us up to Friday, three days before the start of the tournament." Osuna and Palafox were seeded No. 2.

Of his defeat by Susman, Osuna said: "It's always tough in the first match after a rest. Also, it was the first time on grass for me in a long time. I found it very slippery."

Seventh seeded Clark Graebner of Cleveland and Cliff Richey of Dallas, seeded eighth, also were eliminated. Graebner lost to Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, 6-4, 6-4. Richey was defeated by Bill Bond of La Jolla, Calif., 9-7, 6-8, 6-2.

Top seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., was scheduled to meet Keith Carpenter of Canada in the top second round match today.

CUP CHALLENGE

American Eagle Backed To Wall

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Supporters of American Eagle's bid to become the defender of the America's Cup have indicated they feel their backs are against the wall.

American Eagle, which swept the field in the early trials, has lost her last seven races against her remaining rival, Constellation.

The final trials to select the Cup defender were suspended for a day at American Eagle's request yesterday while her crew tested a new mainsail designed to improve her speed in light winds.

"We thought both boats should have the opportunity to perform at their very best," said Henry Sears of the Aurora Syndicate, the group backing American Eagle.

"We would have done the same for Constellation," Sears said, "and besides it was a miserable day for a race."

Constellation's strongest showing has been in races in light winds.

Members of the American Eagle crew and supporting syndicate acknowledged privately that another loss to Constellation might convince the New York Yacht Club selection committee to make Constellation the choice.

The committee has until Sept. 6 to select a boat for the challenge series, which starts Sept. 15.

Bill Luders, American Eagle's designer, planned to sail aboard her today as relief helmsman. Luders has been a spectator at previous trial races, traveling aboard his own boat.

Constellation was standing pat. No changes in the boat or her crew were planned.

While the U.S. trials were suspended, Sovereign made it two straight over Kurrewa V in the final trials to choose the British yacht to challenge for the Cup.

Sovereign crossed the line at the end of the 24.3-mile course three minutes and 20 seconds ahead of her rival.

Grid Season Begins For Marin Tars

The football season at College of Marin will arrive officially Friday, Coach Dick Read announced today, with physical examinations and issuing of equipment from 9 a.m. to noon in the new gymnasium.

Players who can't be present Friday may take their physical and get equipment at the same time Monday. Read said he will hold a mandatory team meeting from 1-3 p.m. Monday in the gymnasium.

The Tars will start drills Sept. 1 with the other junior colleges in the state, and play their first game Sept. 18 at Menlo JC.

General Manager Announced For St. Louis Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The new St. Louis Cardinal general manager, Bob Howsam, announced yesterday that Joseph V. McShane had been named the club's business manager.

McShane replaces Art Routzong, who resigned as business manager when Bing Devine resigned as general manager of the baseball club.

McShane, 47, has been with the Cardinal organization since 1958. He worked in the ticket department, then moved to the public relations division and has been director of sales and promotion since 1962.

Jack Nicklaus Nears $100,000 Golf Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The $2,900 Jack Nicklaus won in the American Golf Classic Sunday pushed his total winnings for the year to almost $100,000.

The Professional Golfers' Association reported Nicklaus has banked $99,117 while winning three of the 20 tournaments in which he competed.

Arnold Palmer, who won $3,300 for a third place finish in the American, has earned $93,743 in 21 tournaments and Tony Lemia is third in the standings with $70,938.

Others in the first ten are: Bill Casper Jr., $64,886; Ken Venturi, $53,840; Gary Player, $52,949; Juan Rodriguez, $46,728; Mason Rudolph, $43,612; Mike Souchak, $37,533, and Bob Nichols, $37,087.

SAD SIGHT IN NEW YORK

McElhenny Leaves Giant Camp

By MILTON RICHMAN

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Heavy-hearted Hugh McElhenny, a man whose total yardage reads like boxcar figures, had just finished walking the roughest 50 yards of his life.

It was an abnormally slow, painful walk for the rugged, 35-year-old halfback because he was saying good-bye to all his teammates on the New York football Giants team.

Most of them didn't really know what to say to a fellow they once called "the king." What can anyone really say to a veteran who has just been dropped from the squad?

"Tough luck, Mac," said one of his teammates, offering his hand. "Wish you all the best, Hughie," said another.

When it was all over, McElhenny, who gained a total of 11,239 yards during his 12 seasons in the National Football League with the San Francisco 49ers, Minnesota Vikings and Giants, had a lot of time to think.

"I have nothing going," he confessed frankly to someone who asked him about his plans.

"I honestly don't know whether I'll try to get a job with another club," he said. "I haven't given any thought to it at all. I haven't the least idea what I'm going to do."

Telling the likeable McElhenny he no longer was a member of the Giants at their training site here yesterday was almost as difficult for head coach Allie Sherman as it was for the 190-pound veteran to accept the news.

"Sometimes I think this is the roughest part of the job," Sherman said.

McElhenny fully realized his age was against him when Sherman had to cut the squad to 45 players yesterday and he also knew he was vulnerable because a knee injury limited his activity last year. Somehow he kept hoping he might escape the axe.

"In some respects it was a shock to get the news," he said, "and in some respects it wasn't."

But it hurt and the man who had been chosen all-pro three times during his career and had gained more yardage than anyone in the NFL today, save Jimmy Brown and Ollie Matson, took it the way you'd expect—hard.

He must have been thinking about many things, like how he was San Francisco's No. 1 draft choice 12 years ago, how the fans out there regarded him as another Red Grange, and how when the 49ers eventually traded him, he told reporters:

"Red Hickey thinks nobody over 30 can play this game."

McElhenny disproved that statement although it was apparent he slowed up somewhat the past season.

"Football has been awful good to me," he said quietly. "I certainly have no complaints. Playing in that title game with the Giants against the Bears last year was the biggest thrill of my life."

Now, it seemed, there was nothing left.

Braves Take 2nd Straight From Philadelphia Phillies

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews, a member of baseball's exclusive 400 Homer Club, is trying to salvage a respectable season — and is hurting the pennant-minded Philadelphia Phillies in the process.

Rebounding from a miserable start this year, Mathews continued a hot hitting streak with a two-run home run and a single last night as the fifth-place Braves made it two in a row over the Phils, 7-5.

While securing their hold on the first division, the Braves became the first team to win two straight from Philadelphia since late in July and cut another chunk from the Phils' National League lead.

Mathews, who will be 33 in October, lined a sharp single and scored the run that put the Braves in front to stay in the third. Then, after Hank Aaron tripled in the fifth, the muscular third baseman sent a towering drive over the right field wall for his 20th homer of the season and No. 442 of his career.

Cincinnati took over second place, rapping the New York Mets 7-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Bob Purkey while Los Angeles beat San Francisco 3-1. Houston held off Chicago 5-4 and Lou Brock's 13th inning homer sealed St. Louis' 7-6 verdict over Pittsburgh in the other games.

The Mets got two runs — on Ron Hunt's homer — before Purkey got anyone out, but he shut them out the rest of the way. Frank Robinson doubled in two runs and Deron Johnson doubled in three more for all the working room Purkey needed.

The Braves built an early lead on homers by Mathews and Lee Maye, then held off Philadelphia's late rush. Braves right-hander Tony Cloninger held the Phillies to three hits over the first seven innings, but the Phils chased him in the eighth, scoring three runs on two singles, a fielders choice and Johnny Callison's homer.

St. Louis had blown a 4-0 lead, then come from behind 6-4 before Brock settled their long struggle with Pittsburgh with his homer. Veteran Smoky Burgess drove in two Pittsburgh runs with a pinch single in the top of the 12th, but the Cards matched them in the bottom of the inning.

Bob Aspromonte drove in one run with a double, another with a sacrifice fly and scored a third as Houston jumped on rookie John Flavin for five runs in the first 2 1-3 innings, then held on against the Cubs.

49ers Add A Lineman To Roster

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers had added a played axed by the New York Giants to their own squad today, but it was not Hugh McElhenny.

The Prospectors picked up 260-pound Frank Lasky from the Giants on waivers yesterday, but sadly rejected McElhenny, the one-time brilliant 49er star who was cut by the Giants yesterday.

Coach Jack Christiansen said "I understand Hugh has had some trouble with his legs this year and is not his old self."

The 49ers also signed defensive halfback Elbert Kimbrough, leaving five 49ers without contracts. They are receivers Dale Messer and Clyde Conner, defensive back Abe Woodson, linebacker Bill Cooper and fullback J. D. Smith. The 49ers say that some of these men have requested additional time before contract negotiations.

Mrs. Johnson Has Top Round

Mrs. Ed Johnson had the best round in Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club play yesterday, a 33. Mrs. Charles Wagner shot the low gross with 38-13—25.

In a three-little-pigs tourney in which the worst three holes and two-thirds of the handicap are subtracted from a player's score, Mrs. Ned DiGracia with 21-6⅔—14⅓ and Mrs. Wagner with 23-8⅔—14⅓ tied for first. Mrs. Carl Hanson had 22-6⅔—15⅓.

Raiders Cut Down To 41 Gridders

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Al Davis pared his Oakland Raider roster to 41, one below the American Football League limit, with the release of two veteran backs and three rookies.

Cut were vets Lloyd Winston and Bob Dickinson along with rookies Jim Moss, Ron Calcagno and Loran Hunt.

Winston, of Southern California, played with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League and then was with San Diego and Oakland of the AFL. Dickinson, from Mississippi Southern, toured the AFL with Kansas City, Denver, Houston and then came to Oakland.

Calcagno was a quarterback hopeful from Santa Clara. Moss was a halfback from West Virginia and Hunt a defensive back from Southern California. All were released yesterday.

It's Time For Managerial Casualties

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's Russian roulette time in the majors again, meaning you can start looking for those managerial casualties, with Sam Mele of Minnesota slated to be among the early victims.

Inevitably when a club goes bad, a change has to be made. As one club owner put it, "You can't fire all the ball players," so he resorts to the next best thing and simply fires the manager.

That being the case, Mele is a good bet to go, but don't worry about him because he's an extraordinarily capable baseball man and an equally good bet to wind up with another managing job, either with the Boston Red Sox or New York Mets.

Mele won't be the only manager to go. He'll have a lot of company.

The Houston Colts will notify Harry Craft they no longer require his managerial services and Alvin Dark probably will get the same message from the San Francisco Giants.

This will give Houston general manager Paul Richards a perfect opportunity to hire Dark as manager of the Colts, an idea Richards has been kicking around for some time, plus a chance to offer Craft a job in Houston's farm system.

Craft, who has done an excellent job with the Colts regardless of what Richards thinks, undoubtedly will thank Richards, like the gentleman he is, decline the Houston offer and take a supervisory job with an American League club instead.

Three other managers also are sweating it out while a fourth one has been listed among the vulnerables so long he's thoroughly used to it.

The three who aren't at all sure they'll be getting their business mail at the same address next year are Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals, Charlie Dressen of the Detroit Tigers and Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees.

The fourth fellow is Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who happens to have seniority over all present major league managers in point of continued service with one club, but who also happens to know what can be expected when he wins a world championship one year and finishes seventh the next.

That doesn't necessarily mean Alston will be let go. He has a solid champion in vice president Buzzy Bavasi. Bear in mind, however, Walter O'Malley is the president and he's the man with the final say.

Getting back to Mele, remember he has had several votes of confidence from president Cal Griffith. Those votes in themselves give you a clear idea how the wind is blowing in Minnesota. Griffith felt the Twins could win this year. So did Mele. But the pitching never did come around and there were times when the only thing Sam got by waving to his bullpen was practice.

Craft inherited a different problem. He was given a bunch of untried kids, plus a few rejects and told to do the best he could.

He did, but apparently someone up there has a painfully short memory.

Beth Kaufman Urges Olympic Fund Support

Mrs. Beth Kaufman of San Anselmo, member of the U.S. National Olympic Committee, yesterday urged Marin County residents to get behind the U.S. Olympic Fund which will send our representatives to the games in Tokyo in October.

"Money must be found to cover the expenses of the athletes and coaches," she said. "Those selected to be honored as officials pay all their own expenses.

"The U.S. Olympic team is strictly amateur. No subsidy comes from the United States government. The entire cost must be paid by the American public."

Besides the satisfaction of helping our 28 men's and 11 women's squads get to Tokyo, Mrs. Kaufman noted, money contributed to the Olympic Fund will earn the donor a memento of the 1964 games. These range from an Olympic pin or decal for a one dollar contribution to a contributor plaque for a $10 donation to a complete report on the Olympics and the Pan-American Games in book form for a gift of $25.

Donations may be sent to Mrs. Kaufman at her home at 118 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, or to the Olympic House, 57 Park Avenue, New York 16, N.Y. Contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

Sports Car Olympics Set At Squaw Valley

The Northern California Sports Car Council will hold its fourth annual Sports Car Olympics at Squaw Valley over the Labor Day weekend.

Last year the Olympics had 342 entrants, the largest total of any motor sports event in the nation. Contestants will compete in eight different activities for points and 150 awards.

Hunting Club Dinner Meeting

The Green Rock Pheasant Hunting Club of Las Gallinas will hold its first dinner meeting tonight in the Trafalgar Room at Trader Vic's restaurant in San Francisco.

The hunting club will be open from Sept. 1 to March 1, with chukar hunting the motif through the first month and pheasants thereafter. A chukar is a type of partridge.

Marin Oarsman Tries For Olympic Berth Tomorrow

Lt. T. Gary Rogers, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Rogers of 16 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, will row in the Lake Merritt Boat Club shell tomorrow in the first heat of the U.S. Olympic fours-without-coxswain rowing trials at Orchard Beach, New York.

Rowing with Rogers will be Dr. Don Martin, Gary Yancy and Jerry Denham. All four are graduates of the University of California and former Bear rowers, and they have been working out this summer under the tutelage of Cal coach Jim Lemmon.

The Lake Merritt crew will be using a shell loaned to them by the New York Athletic Club tomorrow, when they meet the co-favored Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia and the University of Washington quartet.

In addition to the fours-without-cox trials, the final Olympic elimination in fours-with-cox and pairs will also be held at Orchard Beach this weekend.

They Keep Seeing The Same Old Face

DENVER (UPI)—Gary Kolb and Ethan Blackaby, who played side by side in the outfield for the Denver Bears of the Pacific Coast League, also were football teammates in college. They were halfbacks at the University of Illinois.

THE FRESHEST OF eggs and cream, the finest cream cheese and strawberry preserves help make this Baked Banana Cheesecake a melt-in-the-mouth confection. It is topped with banana slices.

HAS PRESERVES

Baked Banana Cheesecake Luscious

The best of everything goes into the making, as in this luscious Baked Banana Cheesecake.

The freshest of eggs and cream, the finest cream cheese and strawberry preserves (homemade, probably), help make this melt-in-the-mouth confection.

1 tblsp sugar
2 tblsp butter, melted
2 8-oz packages cream cheese, softened
1 cup light cream
1 cup sugar
2 tblsp flour
¼ tsp salt
3 egg yolks
1 tsp vanilla extract
¾ tsp grated lemon rind
3 egg whites
½ cup strawberry preserves
2 bananas, sliced

Grease a 7-inch spring form pan. Combine crumbs, sugar and butter and press to bottom of pan; refrigerate. Cream softened cream cheese; add light cream gradually and beat until smooth. Combine sugar, flour and salt; add to cream cheese mixture. Beat egg yolks until thick and pale lemon in color; fold in with vanilla and lemon rind. Beat egg whites to soft peaks and fold in. Pour into pan and bake at 325° Fahrenheit for one hour. Turn oven off and leave in oven one hour longer. Cool to room temperature; remove sides and refrigerate until cold. Beat preserves until no longer lumpy. Force through strainer to remove pulp and seeds. Spread over top of chilled cheesecake, allowing some to dribble down sides. Top with banana slices. Makes eight servings.

Pork Ambrosia Wins Contest

THIS BEAUTIFUL, easy-to-prepare dish, "Luau Pork Ambrosia," won the top prize of $10,000 in America's Cookout Championship "for men only" recently in Hawaii. The recipe features use of a baby food—cooked, strained apricots—in the marinade and basting sauce.

Cooked, strained apricots — universally considered a food for babies — keyed the recipe for a vote-getting pork roast that won top money in America's Cookout Championship held recently in Hawaii.

For his recipe, which he called "Luau Pork Ambrosia," Dr. Gail S. Erbeck, 31-year-old Mason, Ohio, dentist, received a cash award of $10,000 from foil, sponsor of the annual barbecue competition "for men only."

Dr. Erbeck's recipe makes into a masterpiece

LUAU PORK AMBROSIA
(Serves 6 to 8)

1 (5-lb.) pork roast, chine bone removed, tied for roasting
4 jars strained apricots (baby food)
⅓ cup honey
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ cup soy sauce
½ clove garlic, minced
1 small onion, minced
1 cup gingerale
⅛ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can (1 lb. 13-oz.) whole unpeeled apricots
1 tablespoon lemon rind, grated
¼ cup coconut, freshly grated
Parsley sprigs
quilted broiling foil

Place pork roast in marinating dish. Combine 2 jars strained apricots, honey, lemon juice, soy sauce, garlic, onion, gingerale, ginger and pepper; pour over pork. Marinate for 4 to 5 hours, turning occasionally.

Line grill with quilted foil; let coals burn down until covered with gray ashes.

Remove pork from marinade; reserve marinade. Place roast on spit and cook over low coals for approximately 3½ hours. (If using a meat thermometer, roast should register 185° when done). During the last half hour, baste frequently with marinade. During the last 5 minutes, spread 1 jar strained apricots over roast.

Heat marinade with 1 jar strained apricots; serve as sauce over meat. Heat whole apricots and lemon rind together.

Late Summer Plentifuls To Include Beef, Prunes, Corn

Soon—all too soon for some of the population—the great back-to-school movement will get under way; families will settle into a routine, and appetites will grow keener.

Keyed to these annual autumn phenomena is the September plentiful foods list of the United States Dept. of Agriculture. USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service notes the list really has everything: Fruit, vegetables, meat and fowl — all can be used in hearty meals. For example:

BEEF. Supplies of high quality fed beef continue well above those of a year ago. Pot roasts, meat loaves, beef birds, roasts and, of course, hamburgers.

FRESH ITALIAN PRUNES, also known as purple plums. The Pacific Northwest crop is considerably larger than last year's short one — 61,500 tons compared to 41,600 tons. Many of these prunes go to the canners, but there will be plenty around for fresh eating, deep purple plum jam, plum cobblers, salads.

LATE SUMMER VEGETABLES, Tomatoes, carrots, sweet corn, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, cabbage, onions and peppers. Enjoy these while you may. Play up salads; roast corn in the husks next time you "do" a backyard barbecue; keep cucumbers in mind, too, for relish assortments.

Fruit Platter Provides Lunch For A Foursome

4 oranges
4 peaches
2 cups stemmed seedless grapes
Romaine or other salad greens
½ pint commercial sour cream
½ cup crumbled blue cheese, loosely packed (about 3 ounces)

Cut rind away from oranges so no white membrane remains; slice into rounds and halve each, removing any seeds. Peel peaches and cut away from pits in wedges. Arrange oranges, peaches and grapes on romaine. Stir cheese into sour cream, distributing well; serve as a topping for the fruit platter. Makes 4 servings.

Pecans, Chocolate Make An Unusual 'Veined' Cake

1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp baking soda
½ tsp salt
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
½ tsp vanilla
1 large egg
½ cup commercial sour cream
⅓ cup finely chopped pecans
⅓ cup sweet chocolate-flavored beverage mix

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients in 4 additions, alternately with sour cream, just until smooth. Spread about half (a little less than 1 cup) of the batter over the bottom of a buttered 8-inch size glass pie plate; sprinkle with the pecans mixed with the chocolate mix.

Spoon over the remaining batter, spreading lightly with a small spatula. (It doesn't matter if a little of the chocolate-nut mixture blends with the batter.)

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) over until browned and top springs back lightly when touched — 35 to 40 minutes; make sure center of cake is baked through.

Cool in pie plate on wire rack; cut in wedges and serve warm.

Tapioca And Peaches Go Into Cobbler

⅔ plus ⅓ cup sugar
1½ tblsp quick-cooking tapioca
¼ plus ½ tsp salt
½ tsp cinnamon
2 lbs peaches, pared and silced to make 1 qt
2 tblsp butter
1 cup flour
1½ tsp baking powder
¼ cup shortening, melted
1 egg
½ cup milk

In a glass baking dish (10x6x2 inches) stir together ⅔ cup sugar, the tapioca, ¼ teaspoon salt and the cinnamon. Lightly fold in peaches; dot with butter. Stir together the flour, baking powder, ⅓ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt; add shortening, egg and milk; beat only until smooth—about ½ minute. Spoon evenly over peaches, spreading with spatula. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven until topping is browned and cake tester inserted in topping comes out clean—45 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Makes eight servings.

Take Advantage Of Blueberries For Biscuits

2 cups blueberries, rinsed
6 tbsps. sugar
1 tbsp flour
1 tbsp butter or margarine
½ cup biscuit mix
2½ tbsps cream

Turn blueberries into 2 individual glass pie plates — each about 6 inches across and 1 inch deep. Stir together the sugar and flour; sprinkle over berries; dot with butter. With a fork, stir together the biscuit mix and cream; divide in half. Roll out each half of dough into a round large enough to fit over berries; with a pastry wheel, cut each round into 4 wedge-shaped pieces; place on berries. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until biscuit browns — about 25 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream. Makes 2 large servings.

Put Olives Into Oil And Vinegar Dressing

3 tblsp cider vinegar
1 tsp salt
⅛ tsp each white pepper and paprika
2 tblsp minced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tblsp each minced chives and parsley

In a small jar, shake together thoroughly all the ingredients. Makes about ¾ cup. Use for tossed green salad, adding more salt plus seasoning salt to the salad if you like.

Make-It-At-Home Split Pea Soup

1 lb quick-cooking green split peas
1 ham bone and a veal knuckle
2 qts boiling water
1 cup each chopped onion and celery
1½ cups diced carrot
1 green pepper, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste

Wash split peas several times in cold water; drain. In a kettle, bring to a boil the peas with the remaining ingredients. Boil gently until peas are cooked through—about 1½ hours. Remove bones; puree peas and vegetables. Thin soup with stock to suit taste; reheat. If not all the soup is to be served, the puree may be freezer-stored. Makes six to eight servings.

Subdivision Plans Get Approval

San Anselmo Planning Commission Monday approved two small subdivisions and a change in lot lines for a third applicant.

Two-lot subdivisions were approved for Richard Gaither on property between Center Boulevard and San Anselmo Avenue, near Lansdale Station; and for John Condon, who owns land next to his home at 24 Millbrae Avenue. Both subdivisions are for single-family homes.

Charles Lavaroni won approval to revise lot lines on his two parcels at Hampton Avenue and Alderney Road. The lots, previously long and narrow, were changed into more rectangular shapes.

Two other requests for two-lot subdivisions were continued until the Sept. 21 meeting for revision of lot lones. The applications were for Merle L. Thomas' property at 91 Spring Grove Avenue and Mrs. R. J. Martin's property on Jordan Avenue.

Sen. Byrd's Wife Dies

BERRYVILLE, Pa. (UPI)—Mrs. Anne Douglas Beverley Byrd, wife of Virginia's senior Sen. Harry F. Byrd, died at her Shenandoah Valley home yesterday of a heart attack, less than a week after her 77th birthday.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in nearby Winchester, the town where she grew up, met and married Byrd in 1913. Virginia's Democratic Party leader is now seeking his sixth full term on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. Byrd, a virtual invalid for several years, was described as "a woman who took little part in politics and lived a quiet life."

Mrs. Byrd is survived by three sons: State Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., a Winchester newspaper publisher, Bradshaw Beverley Byrd, and Richard Evelyn Byrd of Clark County.

Disease List Is Announced

Seven cases of gonorrhea and an equal number of streptococcus infections were reported in Marin County last week by the county health department.

Three of the gonorrhea cases were in San Rafael with two in Novato. The same cities had two strep infections apiece. Fairfax had one strep infection.

San Rafael also had two of the county's three mumps cases and its only reported case of measles.

All other cases were in unincorporated areas of the county.

Tiburon Group To Study Dock

Two Tiburon city councilmen have been appointed to a committee to check on Harbor Carriers, Inc., proposal to construct a permanent dock off Tiburon's Main Street.

Councilmen Anne L. Ellinwood and Fred C. Hannahs were named by Mayor Gordon T. Strawbridge yesterday following council authorization of a committee Monday night.

Harbor Carriers is requesting the docking facilities for its daily commuter ferry to San Francisco; the council has evidenced interest in the company's providing parking spaces for commuters.

Tiburon Plans Talk Scheduled

Planning and recreation expert L. H. McVicar will speak in Tiburon on Sept. 3.

The public meeting, originally scheduled for Friday, has been postponed because of resident interest in the Democratic National Convention.

McVicar's talk will be on the potential of newly incorporated cities to originate recreation planning. McVicar will speak at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School at the invitation of the city's planning commission and council.

GET-ACQUAINTED BUFFET

Three new members, standing from left, Mesdames Leon Arrow, Jane Hesse and Michael Looper were among those honored at yesterday's get-acquainted buffet staged by the Marin Hadassah at the Sleepy Hollow home of Mrs. Bernard Cassell. Parents May Not Be To Blame

(The first of two articles by Harry Milt, author and authority on mental health with the National Assn. for Mental Health for the past 14 years. With Dr. George Stevenson, he co-authored "Master Your Tensions and Start Living Again.")

By HARRY MILT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Millions of mothers are needlessly carrying a feeling of guilt about their children's emotional problems.

A bright child fails in school and the mother wails: "What did I do to cause this?"

Another child gets in a rough crowd, stays out beyond curfew and becomes defiant when her parents scold her.

"What did I do to bring this about?"

THE FATHER stands helplessly by wondering what his contribution was to this debacle, but feeling that at most he was only an unwitting accomplice.

A child develops a speech difficulty, a reading problem, a hypochondrical fear of death, a crippling inferiority complex, a morbid fear of animals, an exaggerated excitement about the opposite sex, an extreme moodiness or hatefulness, and the mother tears herself apart with guilt—certain it is all her fault.

You can't blame her for feeling this way.

For years, decades, psychiatrists and psychologists have been expounding the theory that most emotional problems of children are caused by a difficulty in relationship between mother and child during the first few years, even the first few months of the child's life.

EITHER THE CHILD was rejected, or overprotected; either neglected or overindulged.

The experts are still saying the same thing, but now they are saying something else besides.

They are saying that what happens between a mother and child depends not only on the mother's attitude and actions, but also on what the child brings to the situation.

Some children are born emotionally robust and can withstand the supposedly devastating rejection or overprotection with which the mother might react because of her own emotional problems and needs.

OTHERS ARE emotionally sensitive and cannot stand up under the slightest lack of attention, even at times when the mother is terribly overworked or distraught, and unable to give attention to anyone or anything.

Much more attention is being paid to the contribution of the inherited temperamental and emotional characteristics which the child brings to the interaction with the mother.

In extreme cases it is being said that the child is rejected because he is impossible, and not that he is impossible because he has been rejected.

Furthermore, the experts point out, even if the mother does tend to reject or overprotect the child, it is seldom something she is doing deliberately.

VERY FEW MOTHERS deliberately or consciously reject a child. Rejection is a subtle emotional process resulting, in most cases, from the mother's own psychological problems over which she may have very little control.

Where the mother overprotects the child it is generally out of great concern for him and great anxiety about his safety and welfare.

(Next: The father's role.)

St. Isabella's Guild To Meet On Tuesday

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

'Are You Going To Perle's?'

By MOLLY MARIN

The famed "hostess with the mostest" is holding forth in fine form in Atlantic City, putting the local gatherings in the shadows this week. . . . The indubitable authority on partying, Perle Mesta, is three down and two to go in her series of five this week, where reportedly the VIPs have decided that "Perle's house" is the only place in town where they can get a bite to eat before the convention sessions.

PERLE MESTA

Once married to an Italian, Mrs. Mesta is going heavy on the meatballs and zita for her buffet and has also served baked beans, stuffed eggs and sliced ham at every gathering. It's a menu that's been packing upward of 200 guests into the summer home loaned to Mrs. Mesta by a Philadelphia stockbroker friend. The crush was especially bad the first night in the four downstairs party rooms and Mrs. Mesta threw open the door and all the windows for a breath of breeze. . . .

Mrs. Mesta receives her guests in a foyer with an Italian marble floor and crystal chandelier. There is also a fake waterfall in the solarium. She's been beset with gate crashers and with others peering in through the windows.

THE NEIGHBORS have cast a watchful eye, too. One strung a Goldwater banner across her porch and another gave a party of her own to watch "Perle's Party" Sunday night. Wherever she goes Mrs. Mesta attracts attention, as Marinites will remember when she was a visitor here and spoke at the College of Marin four years ago.

STINSON BEACH women entertained a group of 14 young African women last week at a luncheon held at the Community Center which included lively discussion of a wide range of subjects.

Traveling in station wagons, the young women are making a 9,000-mile tour of the West and Middle West arranged by the Ambassadors for Friendship program of Macalester College of St. Paul, Minn., where they have been participating in a special study program this summer.

Their trip to Marin, which included a visit to Muir Woods and the George Wheelwrights' Green Gulch Ranch, was arranged by Calvin J. Nichols of Stinson Beach, a member of the board of directors of International Hospitality Center of San Francisco.

Hostesses for the luncheon at the Stinson Beach Community Center were Mesdames W. G. Swigert, Edward E. Leary and W. E. Shuit.

After the luncheon the guests, who were interested in community development projects, were shown through the center and told the story of its development and the part taken in it by women of the community.

They particularly admired the Community Chapel and inspected the ambulance and heard Mrs. Shuit outline activities of the Volunteer Ambulance Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Friedrich have returned to Sausalito from a trip to Spain and Italy. They flew to Madrid the latter part of July and then went on to Rome. There they rented a car and drove to Florence and Santa Margherita on the Italian Riviera.

"We stayed there for some time," said Mrs. Friedrich. "We were tired of sightseeing and had a wonderful rest there. We didn't even go to France because we were having such a good time on the Riviera."

MRS. F. J. CONNELLY and her daughter Carol have returned to Mill Valley after spending three weeks at Carnelian Bay, Lake Tahoe, where they have for the past nine years stayed for several weeks in the house of the Aaron Ruckers of Kentfield.

With them this year were Mrs. Connelly's grandsons, Chris, Jeff and Eric, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirchmann of Belvedere. While there they visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jory of Grass Valley, who formerly lived in Mill Valley.

MR. AND MRS. Edwin S. Long of Sausalito will entertain tomorrow evening at a dinner party for 10 guests at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

The John Churchills and their daughter, Elaine, have returned from two weeks in the Hawaiian Islands. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Blackett, formerly of Sausalito, who now live permanently on the island of Maui.

MICHAEL STEPHEN HOLBROOK was christened at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley by the Rev. D. Murray Hammond on Sunday.

Michael is the son of Lt. and Mrs. Mark Stephen Holbrook and the brother of Michele Lynn. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Anderson, formerly of Belvedere, now residing in Kailua, Oahu, Hawaii, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Holbrook of Santa Venetia.

The new great-grandparents are Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Kingsburg and Mrs. Elizabeth Botrall of Sacramento. Michael's godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ebbesen of Belvedere and Donald B. Anderson Jr., the brother of Mrs. Holbrook.

A FRENCH COMPLIMENT to American know-how, is interpreted in this Just Stretch outfit. The trimmest of jackets and pleated skirts begins school in Klopman Mills' new stretch flannel. Woven of Dacron/cotton/Lycra, it has a fine flannel hand plus built-in comfort and lots of "give" where little girls need it. The set is treated to a white middy blouse from Diane Young.

A FRENCH SALUTE

The sailor tie has been lifted straight from the French seaman's uniform and transplanted onto the American fashion scene for the grammar school set. Diane Young designs it with a decidedly feminine flair by using soft crepe that whisks through the laundry.

THE FRENCH SCHOOLGIRL clears fashion customs this fall for little girls. Hymar translates the feminine flounce in chocolate brown with a dash of sugar pink that shows up at the sleeves and on the bodice flower. Klopman Mills' broadcloth, blended of Dacron and cotton, keeps both the blossom and the dress fresh and pretty even after a day of blackboards and monkey bars.

Knowing How To Launder Cuts Down Wear, Tear

Wash as soon after wearing as practical. Perspiration and other types of soil oxidize and the longer they remain in a garment the more difficult they are to remove.

Have you mended all rips or tears? Washing aggravates damage, if untended.

PRE-TREAT BADLY soiled areas such as knees, seat, side thighs. With a small brush or sponge lather these spots with a thick mixture of water and washing compound. Be sure to use the same type of washing compound for pre-treatment as you will use in the washer load later.

Remove any fresh paint stains with turpentine, then rinse. Use a safe dry cleaning fluid on deep grease and oil stains. Rub ice over embedded chewing gum before scraping off excess with a knife; finishing up with cleaning fluid. Soak blood stains in cold water.

ASSEMBLE JEANS in a wash load with soaled work shirts, heavier and darker cotton pants, overalls, play clothes, work socks and any cotton underwear having greasy soil.

WHETHER YOU use all-purpose soap or synthetic detergent, always measure it. Never approximate. Increase the quantity of soap or detergent according to the hardness of water, as amount of soil increases on garments, and if there is oily soil present.

Clothes that are washed together can be dried together. However, if you mix loads in the automatic drier, you must be prepared to remove the quicker drying items first.

Oh, Dad, Poor Dad

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fathers, too, can be emotionally upset by the birth of a child. In a study of 10 men sufficiently disturbed by fatherhood to require hospitalization, Dr. William W. Wainwright, of Cornell Medical Center, found causes to be increased responsibility, sexual conflict, threatened dependency relationships and other factors.

To some degree, Dr. Wainwright reported in "Medical World News," these conditions may affect all prospective dads. He suggested that, as a first step, the obstetrician "ascertain what meaning fatherhood may have for the spouse of his pregnant patient."

In satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today was Dante Fontana, 35, of San Francisco, who suffered a concussion and back injury.

Harry H. Brogioli, 50, of 324 the Alameda, San Anselmo, went to a doctor for treatment of a shoulder injury.

San Rafael police said Merlo's pickIp was struck from behind by a flatbed truck driven by Ernest A. Hartzell, 30, of 1314½ Second Street. The pickup then ran into Brogioli's car, and it struck one driven by Mildred E. Wagner, 36, of 9 Fern Lane, San Anselmo.

Hartzell said he turned to look behind him just as the vehicles ahead stopped for a red light at C Street. All were going east.

Driver Pleads Not Guilty

An innocent plea to a charge of drunken driving was entered in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by Albert George Buck, 43, transient painter. Trial was scheduled Nov. 17.

Buck was arrested Aug. 13 by California Highway Patrol after allegedly hitting Wesley Leonard Caston, 12, of 490 Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, in the parking lot of a bar and restaurant on a Highway 101 frontage road north of San Rafael.

The youth was not seriously injured, officers said, and telephoned his mother, Mrs. John Poppy, who located Buck and requested he report the accident to the patrol.

College Group Gets Fund Report

Eight of the 15 members of the College of Marin Foundation board Monday night heard that $184.99 was in the treasury.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond told board members that the college next year would need $19,000 in short-term emergency loans to help finance a joint federal-college program of student loans.

Plans include setting up a speakers' bureau and launching a general drive sometime during the school year, according to Theodore C. Wellman, foundation president.

West Marin Plan Will Be Discussed

A membership meeting of the Inverness Improvement Assn. to discuss the West Marin Master Plan will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at Inverness School.

Association President Elmer Williams urged all who are interested in the future of West Marin to attend the session.

Youths Join Navy

Two San Anselmo youths have reported for basic Navy training at the San Diego Naval Training Center. They are David W. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Little of 86 Brookmead Court, and Fred A. Burk, son of Mrs. Dorothy M. Foulkes of 98 Berkeley Avenue.

Alan R. Wernstrum, Coast Guard seaman recruit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wernstrum Jr. of 128 DuBois Street, San Rafael, is undergoing recruit training at Coast Guard Base at Alameda.

City Share In Transit District Is Backed

Marin County will do its best to give cities a share in control over the operation of the proposed Marin Transit District. Formation of the district is expected to go before the voters in November.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker reported yesterday that the County Local Agency Formation Commission had been concerned that there is no provision in the law for direct city representation, the county board of supervisors being the governing board.

He suggested the cities set up an advisory board, but said the law would have to be changed to allow direct city representation.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would be willing to vote now to ask state legislators to try to change the law. Leydecker said he would agree, but also asked that the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen appoint a five-man advisory group for the time being.

The board agreed quickly.

TB Memorial Fund Support Is Sought

Contributions to the memorial fund of Marin County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. are being sought to support a year-'round program to fight tuberculosis and other respiratory illnesses.

E. Warren McGuire, memorial fund committee chairman, said today that all contributions are acknowledged by a memorial card sent to the family of the deceased or an individual the donor indicates.

'Low' Helicopters Bother Residents

Some residents of Mariner Cove in Corte Madera don't like the "dangerously low" flying helicopters over their homes.

Herber C. Leney, chairman of the board of directors of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn., has asked the town council to make an investigation and take formal action against the low-flying copters. Leney said the helicopters are being used for training purposes by Commodore Aviation.

San Rafael Man Hurt In Crash

A 32-year-old San Rafael man was injured when his car crashed head-on into a utility pole on the Bon Air Bridge in Larkspur at 9:45 a.m. yesterday.

James Edward Vallergo of 60 Fairfax Street was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on his head and scrapes and bruises, and kept at the hospital for observation.

Vallergo was on his way to work in the shoe department at Value World. His car was out of control for 213 feet before hitting the pole, Larkspur police said.

He was thrown part way through the windshield. The new seat belts in his car were not fastened, said Police Chief Howard Clark.

There Are Laughs In It For Just About Everybody

Festival Theater's 1964 Straw Hat Revue has only two more weeks to run.

It plays Wednesday through Saturday nights at the theater on Kensington Road just off Bolinas Road in San Anselmo.

If there is a vacant seat in the house for any of the remaining eight performances, it will be regrettable. It will mean that someone who could have enjoyed the show will miss it.

Estimates are that about 8,000 people will see the production before it closes its extended run this year. Unfortunately, this means that something like 170,000 or more Marin residents have NOT seen the show.

This, too, is regrettable. No person who understands English (or Icelandic) could possibly sit through "What's In It For Me?" without laughing more than once.

The skilled cast sings, dances, plays and spoofs its way through nearly two hours of pure entertainment. They give you the feeling that they enjoy every minute of it as much as does the audience.

Since Festival Theater moved to Marin in 1960, it has developed a mailing list (principally by having those who attend sign a guest book) of more than 6,000 names.

Attendance has grown. It is up more than 20 per cent this year over last.

Ticket sales receipts are up 30 per cent over the previous high. But a strange thing is that only about 2,000 of the names on the mailing list are Marin residents.

The only conclusion to be drawn from this fact is that—like the prophet without honor in his own country — Festival Theater's prestige is higher elsewhere in the Bay Area than it is right here at home in Marin.

The answer to the title question, "What's In It For Me?" can only be:

No matter who you are, there is a sequence of laughs in it for you. And you will be delighted with some of the tricky staging.

We hope Festival Theater continues Straw Hat Revues on and on in Marin, providing the light-hearted touch that is so welcome in our times of one crisis after another.

Our Energetic Sapsucker

We have a Sapsucker, a red-headed member of the Woodpecker family, who works quite furiously most of the day, drilling holes in our acacia and apple trees. And in the evenings we see him or her pecking at the fruit in the neighbor's orchard.

Sapsuckers drill holes into the soft inner bark of the trees where the sap flows in much the same manner that man taps rubber of maple trees for their juices. They also eat some of this inner bark and any insects that they happen to come across.

With their merry drumming, their perky manner and gay top-knot, Sapsuckers seem like happy little birds.

STATE ALCOHOL RULES

License Sales, Discount Prices Pose Gordian Puzzle For Brown

(Last in a series of three articles on California's liquor fair trade law and the complications caused by the limit on the number of licenses.)

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Governor Edmund G. Brown thinks the state should take a long, hard look at its role in virtually prohibiting competition in the off-sale liquor business.

Price competition is prevented effectively by two state laws. One requires the state to enforce fair trade minimum prices for distilled spirits which are set by the distillers or wholesalers of particular brands of liquor. The other limits the number of off-sale licenses to one for each 2,500 persons in a county.

Thus the chain store which can buy liquor in 1,000-case lots or by the carload must sell at the same retail price as the small package store which buys two or three cases at a time.

The 1,000-case purchase naturally is made at a considerable discount but this cannot be passed along to the consumer. In the past, attempts were made to give other benefits or offer enticements to the consumer.

Some stores gave away free party ice; others free mixes; others fancy napkins or bar tools. But this was stopped quickly. In fact, liquor stores now may not give anything of value with the purchase.

By the same token, complicated regulations attempt to define when display equipment provided by the wholesaler is merely to display liquor and when it becomes a useful piece of equipment for the retailer.

One development which has come about because of fair trade is the private label business. A volume dealer may have the distillery bottle liquor under his own label. He then can post a minimum price as low as he likes, so long as it covers his cost plus the 6 per cent for cost of doing business as required by the antiquated unfair practices act.

Experts in the ABC department have been attempting for years to crack the situation which permits licenses, which are sold by the state, to be worth $35,000 to $40,000 on the open market. The simple answer, of course, would be to make licenses non-transferrable.

Under that system, a person going out of business could sell his real property and equipment but the state would have to re-issue the license at the $6,000 price. It would have the effect of destroying the investment of those persons who have paid $35,000 or $40,000 for their licenses.

New licenses issued by the state since 1961 may be sold for only $6,000 but this control extends to only a small percentage of the licenses.

Removal of the license limitations — one to 2,500 — would lower the price immediately and effectively, of course. But here again the rug would be jerked out from under all of those who had invested in expensive licenses.

There have been proposals that all transfers of licenses be prohibited after 10 years. This would give present licensees 10 years in which to recoup their original investment.

The latest proposal from the department, and one that is still alive and may be considered by the 1965 legislature, would relax the license quota somewhat. It would have the effect of topping off the license price ceiling at $15,000.

Under this plan, if a person wanted a license in a county which already was up to its quota, he would be required to advertise for three weeks that he was willing to pay $15,000 for a license. If, after three weeks, there were no takers, he could apply to the department for a new license.

The department, of course, would have some discretion in the matter and could refuse to issue the license if it would cause too great a concentration of licenses in a particular area.

This proposal will be in for plenty of opposition in the coming months, both from the present license holders who want to keep the competition narrowed and from the temperance groups who don't want to see any more outlets for the sale of liquor.

'GLAD THEY MADE DUELING ILLEGAL'

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

No Debate Stand May Injure LBJ's Image In Public's Eye

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Despite the happy, light-hearted, almost confident atmosphere at this Democratic convention, there is a haunting feeling here that President Lyndon B. Johnson made a grave mistake in rejecting any kind of joint appearance with his Republican opponent on television.

THE CONSEQUENCE is already becoming disturbing at the very moment when the Democratic high command figured that the sunshine of national publicity would be focused undimmed on their proceedings at Atlantic City.

Now there is a cloud on the political horizon — the cloud that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater is clearly one-up on an important and possibly vote-winning point of campaign strategy.

The disinclination of the president to appear jointly with Mr. Goldwater, to argue the increasingly sharp challenge the Republican nominee is making, seemed easy in theory. It is proving much more uncertain and uncomfortable in reality.

It looked simple enough to the White House to have the Senate Democrats kill the renewal of the 1960 law which made possible the Kennedy-Nixon "debates" so that Mr. Johnson would not have to admit publicly that he was unwilling to appear with Senator Goldwater.

BUT IT IS NOT proving that simple. Goldwater is too resourceful to leave it that way. He has ingeniously offered to pay all the costs of the needed TV time and has challenged the president to come out from behind the congressional smokescreen or to proclaim openly that he is the one who is saying no, not for me.

Actually there are three other ways the joint appearance can be made possible even without action by Congress to suspend the provision requiring the networks to give equal time to the peripheral candidates. (There were a dozen minor-party presidential nominees four years ago.)

The Democratic and Republican national committees could divide equally the costs of the necessary TV time and under these circumstances the two nominees could work out a mutually acceptable format which would not need to involve the president in off-the-cuff debate.

There is the NBC offer of six one-hour "Meet the Press' interviews — four with the presidential nominees and two with the vice presidential nominees.

THIRDLY, IT IS conceivable that the minor-party candidates might well be willing to waive their equal-time rights if the networks would give them the opportunity to appear together on national TV. Certainly the networks ought to find out.

Why would the joint TV appearances of President Johnson and Senator Goldwater be valuable to voters?

They would enable voters to examine, side by side, the conflicting arguments and conflicting assertions of fact rather than have to read one side one day and hope to find the other three days or three weeks later.

THEY WOULD encourage the partisans on one side to listen to the presentation of the case on the other — and this would be highly educational.

They would heighten public interest and bring out a larger vote, as the Nixon-Kennedy joint appearances did in 1960.

Finally, the embryonic campaign is heading into a harsh, bitter controversy on foreign policy. Republicans are making insinuations about the president's "advance warning" to the North Vietnamese that we were about to destroy their PT boats — insinuations which can neither be proved nor disproved. Democrats are calling Goldwater a "warmonger" and Goldwater is replying in kind.

THIS KIND OF STUFF will be terribly miasmic and divisive unless both nominees are willing to stand up, face to face, and talk to the American people under circumstances which will make it possible to measure intelligently and promptly the widening gaps of fact and opinion between them.

Joint TV appearances will do that better than anything else.

Belvedere Traffic Report Disputed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Randall Gould would not have run an unchecked planted story like the enclosed. ("Drivers Finally Following New Belvedere Route Lines," I-J, Page 8, Aug. 20.)

1. The signs are almost gone.
2. The obstacles to traffic are trash wood and sand (which) should (be) removed as a dirty hazard.
3. The San Rafael court dismisses charges of "violations" of this obstacle.
4. Why don't you check for facts with the Mayor, Kenneth Plummer of the Belvedere Property Owners Assn., Vincent Halinan, Bramey Bransten of Cove Road, Robert Temby of Peninsula Road.
5. Here is a little power group trying to take advantage of an indolent majority represented by an ineffectual council. Do some checking before running a story—Gould would have.

Former Beatle Fans Now Disillusioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As you know, the Beatles have come and gone twice now, both times leaving our policemen battle-weary, our youngsters brainwashed and our wallets empty.

Many people feel that the shaggy four are taking too much money out of the country. American performers were never allowed to take much out of England.

The biggest problem is the money we have to pay for the protection of the Beatles. We think they should pay for their own protection.

We were once average Beatle fans, but we realized that together we spent over $50 on them.

The Beatles are nothing but four young Englishmen, built up by so much publicity that one would think they were Gods; and they're just that to many girls.

Now, we're not Beatle fans because we don't think they're anything special. Publicity makes them. American kids have spent so much money on those British mop tops that the only thing they have left are their hearts—and even those belong to the Beatles.

Ministers Better Stick To The Bible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

NEO-PRESBYTERIANISM
(With apologies to Voltaire)

Candide and Dr. Pangloss, after their fruitless world-wide search for happiness, arrived in the Highlands of Scotland. They found the people law-abiding as well as pious. There were more marriages than divorces, women walked in safety on the streets at night, juvenile delinquency was unknown, and crime so rare that nobody bothered to lock doors. Dr. Pangloss, eager to ascertain the cause, visited a Scottish minister. Dr. Pangloss: "To achieve this Utopia, you surely preach Sociology and Political Science." Minister: "Not at all. We stick to the Bible with emphasis on the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Sermon on the Mount." Dr. Pangloss: "Isn't that old-fashioned?" Minister: "It works here and has for centuries." Elated, Candide and Pangloss determined to remain in Scotland. However, they could not bear the climate or the compulsory wearing of kilts and flew to Marin County.

There, they saw smoke belching from the window of a church. Rushing in, they found a room filled with fine-looking men smoking cigarettes and wearing their collars backward. Not noticing the collars, but aware of the significance of a smoke-filled room, Candide said: "Pardon our intrusion into your political caucus. We thought the place was on fire." Minister: "This is not a political caucus. We are doing God's work. If you are registered voters, you may stay awhile." The ministers discussed the possibility of another $500,000 political appropriation by the Presbyterian Assembly. All felt that this would require congregations to increase benevolences. Dr. Pangloss: "I thought benevolences were for the foreign missionaries." A Minister: "They once were. However, after winning on self-determination, we have few missionaries left. However, in Africa they served their purpose." Dr. Pangloss: "So I understand. The natives had them for dinner." A minister: "Sorry, gentlemen, I must leave for my L.B.J. committee meeting."

A distraught woman rushed into the room and said: "I need help. My husband has run off with a blonde." Another minister: "Come in after the election in November; (the lady leaves the room in tears) she probably needs Freud more than the Bible."

The following Sunday Candide and Dr. Pangloss attended the church service. The minister announced the church's middle position on street violence. However, he added that Christ never took a middle course, assailed existing institutions, and was guilty of civil disobedience. He praised a Chinese sophomore coed who, about to be decapitated for being a Communist, said, "I die gladly for my cause." As Candide and Pangloss left the church, Candide wondered why the minister, instead of lauding the Communist coed, had not extolled American boys now dying in Vietnam.

As they walked down the street, over Dr. Pangloss' portable radio came the announcement that a former seminary student, returning from a church camp, had just murdered his parents, his brother and his sister. Candide and Pangloss (in unison): "Get out the kilts."

"LADDIE," INQUIRED A Scotsman near the first tee, "is it you that's been assigned to me as caddy today?" "Yes, sir," said the caddy respectfully. "And how are you at finding lost balls, laddie?" "Best in the clubhouse," the caddy assured him. "Good, good," approved the Scotsman. "Now look about and find a ball and we'll start our round."

GEORGE MIKES, a Hungarian by birth and an Englishman by adoption, has written an amusing survey called "How to Be an Alien in Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Israel and Japan." "In Britain," he notes, "a criminal may improve and become a decent member of society. A foreigner cannot. Once a foreigner, always a foreigner. He may become British; he never can become English."

"In Italy," observes Mikes, "hotel bills are scrupulously honest. If here and there they happen to add to the bill, it is an error, committed in good faith. The only case which puzzled me occurred in Naples. I wondered whether they were justified in adding 230 lire for heating to my bill in the midst of a July heat wave."

ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

LBJ To Quarterback His Own Campaign

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

ATLANTIC CITY—President Lyndon B. Johnson is keeping the reins of his campaign firmly in his hands and is bent, in effect, on being his own campaign manager.

That is the characteristically "taut ship" way he has always run his election battles, and this year, seeking the greatest political prize of all, will be no different. His apparent aim is to be both the entry and the jockey.

WHETHER HE CAN pull off this unique trick remains to be seen.

Meanwhile, authoritative word of this operational plan is being passed to state and local Democratic leaders assembled here at the national convention. To many of them it's no surprise. They have already seen evidence of it in their bailiwicks.

As outlined to the party pros, the president's formula for ensuring his personal over-all control of the campaign is as follows:

AT THE NATIONAL Committee level, he will retain Kennedy hold-overs in the key positions in which they have demonstrated their ability and effectiveness. Foremost among them are:

Treasurer Richard Maguire, long-time close lieutenant of the late president, who has built up a record high campaign chest variously estimated as between 3.5 and 7 million dollars; Kenneth O'Donnell, who has been shifted from the White House staff to executive director of the committee; Lawrence O'Brien, who is relinquishing his job as chief of congressional liaison to become the committee's director of organization.

Also Frederick Dutton, who recently moved from the State Department as an assistant secretary, to become research and planning head of the committee; National Chairman John Bailey, who was a figurehead under the late president, and will continue in that role in the campaign.

Intermingled among these experienced Kennedy intimates are a number of handpicked "Johnson men"—some with a lot of know-how and others not so much.

Outstanding in the first category is James Rowe, a veteran of national campaigns going back to the New Deal in which he was one the "bright young braintrusters."

Notable in the still-unproven class is Clifton Carter, 46-year-old rangy Texan who is among the president's closest assistants. Johnson brought him to Washington shortly after taking office, and he has been known as the "president's man" in the National Committee ever since—displacing Stephen Smith, Kennedy brother-in-law who had that role. Until lately, Carter had no title, but now he is officially "campaign coordinator."

ON THE STATE LEVEL the president is doing no mixing. He is putting the campaign strictly in the hands of proven supporters about whose loyalty (if not ability) he has no doubts.

Nominally, they will function through the National Committee, principally Carter and Rowe. But they also will have direct access to the president or his immediate aides, such as Jack Valenti, at all times. All they have to do is pick up the phone to get the president or Valenti at once.

Not all these personal state campaign managers ("coordinators" is their official title) have been named. In some states, such as faction-riddled Ohio, none may ever be named. Instead, some outsider may be designated.

Two Sets Of Public Servants In Tug-O-War Over Housing

VOWING TO AVOID confusion, San Rafael's city council recently declined to pave the way for the Marin housing authority to build 50 low-rent homes for elderly persons in the city, since the city is on the verge of setting up a similar plan of its own.

But confusion may be a hard thing to keep out of the picture. This is one more example of the clash that can develop when two levels of government try to grapple with the same social problem simultaneously.

BOTH COUNTY AND CITY have been studying the problem for months. A three-man committee headed by Councilman Charles W. Aby offered a proposal in June for building 10 units on city-owned land at Fourth and Union streets. A fairly simple plan, it would use no outside funds and would be limited solely to senior citizens within specified income limits.

At about the same time, county supervisors approved formation of a group which came to be known as the Citizens' Committee for Housing of Marin's Elderly, or HOME. The committee soon drafted a plan by which the existing county housing authority would build 200 senior citizens' units around the county, of which 50 would be in San Rafael.

THIS PLAN CALLS for liberal use of federal monies, and must be put to the voters before it can be carried out.

County supervisors now have authorized placing the measure on the November ballot. But two weeks before a HOME delegation was to appear before the supervisors in this regard, its members asked the San Rafael City Council for express permission to specify that 50 units would be in the city.

The council, recalling situations where counties have "moved in" on city jurisdiction in many matters, recoiled and declined to act that night. Some councilmen flatly predicted the county housing authority would put the city out of the low-rent housing business if it got its foot in the municipal door.

Postponing the request until the next council meeting, they doomed it to come up on the very eve of the HOME group's appearance before the supervisors.

THIS WAS UNFORTUNATE timing. When it came up again, both sides found themselves in a tug-of-war, with no room for compromise.

Council and committee held huddled conferences at opposite ends of the council chambers. Then Mayor John F. McInnis said the city would stand pat.

Reaction of HOME vice chairman Irving Chapman was that the county could still put those 50 units near, if not in, San Rafael. But he feared the city's response could cast a pall on the county plan.

"THE ONLY ONES who suffer from this will be the people who need the housing," he observed, and suggested the city fathers were pouring cold water on something much closer to realization than their own plan.

Councilmen seemed unmoved by the latter comment, but still were uncomfortable about having to take a stand which might be taken as an indifferent one toward the needs of senior citizens. Yet they obviously resented having been put on the spot at the last minute.

Whether Marin County's senior citizens really were the losers in that evening's clash, only time will tell.

Puppets Hanging Around Rec Center

Director Joseph D. Rodota advised today that children who want to keep the puppets they made this summer should go to the recreation center, 37 Union Street, and claim them soon.

ART BUCHWALD

Columnist's Wife Didn't Have Lady Bird's Business Acumen

ATLANTIC CITY N.J. — The one thing that has emerged from all the hullabaloo about President Lyndon B. Johnson's finances is that Mrs. Johnson is probably one of the smartest business women in the United States.

OUR WIFE STARTED investing for us about the same time Mrs. Johnson started investing for her husband. But unfortunately she chose different investments. The first thing she bought was stock in the Tucker Automobile Co. This cost us $1,000—then the Tucker people decided not to build any cars.

She then decided to get into broadcasting and she invested in a surefire quiz show two days before Charles Van Doren decided to come clean. With the losses from the quiz show she decided to buy an Edsel.

It took a few years to get some money back in the bank and when we finally did our wife put it all in the Suez Canal Co. A week later Nasser nationalized the canal.

NOT LONG AFTER this she heard she could buy a piece of a sugar plantation in Cuba. She was doing great until Castro turned it into a POW camp for the prisoners captured at the Bay of Pigs.

Fortunately we were still on salary at the New York Herald Tribune and we did have a little income. We did until she heard about a fellow named Estes in Texas who was making a fortune for everyone in ammoniated liquid fertilizer tanks.

With the bail money she decided to take a flyer in salad oil. Her broker told her about a man named Tony D'Angelis who had a fortune in salad oil tied up in New Jersey and who intended to sell the oil to the Russians. She bought a half a tank and every day the price skyrocketed. It looked as if we were going to become rich. Then one day some nosey watchman climbed a ladder and decided to look into the tank. You can imagine our wife's surprise when he discovered it was filled with water.

ANOTHER WOMAN would have been discouraged by this time, but our wife is made of sterner stuff. Since then she has invested in the Skybolt missile, William Zeckendorf's hotel enterprises, the World Fair's "To Broadway With Love" show which folded, and just the other day she bought a bond issue for fishing rights in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Because of all the publicity about our finances, we have asked the Washington accounting firm of Fagan and Berdansky to release a statement of our holdings.

The moon is approaching its last quarter; the morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Mars and Venus; the evening star is Saturn.

Those born today are under the sign of Virgo.

On this day in history:

In 1868, Tchaikowsky completed his Fifth Symphony.

In 1920, the 19th Amendment—giving women the right to vote—went into effect.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler said he wanted peace with France but also demanded the return of the Saar to Germany.

In 1948, Axis Sally was flown to the United States to face charges of espionage and treason for wartime radio broadcasts for Germany.

A thought for the day: British novelist Aldous Huxley said: "There is no substitute for talent. Industry and all the virtues are of no avail."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Not All Tricks Are Important When Playing Game Of Bridge

"You're very inconsistent," complains Constant Reader. "Sometimes you describe very complicated plays to gain a trick, and at other times you act as though tricks didn't matter.

"Why don't you make up your mind one way or the other and then stick to it?"

The principle is very simple, Constant, old boy: important tricks are important. Fight like a tiger for tricks that count toward your contract; don't struggle for overtricks.

AN EXAMPLE

Take today's hand, for example. South does not need a second spade trick; he has enough tricks for his contract if he brings in the clubs.

The important tricks are those that South loses. He can afford to lose one club and three spades, but not one club and four spades.

South may capture the king of spades with his ace at the first trick in the hope of winning a second spade trick later, but this is poor policy. The contract would not depend on that second spade trick, so it would be an unimportant trick.

WOULD BE COSTLY

RETURNS SPADE

When South goes after the clubs, East cannot return a spade — thanks to declarer's hold-up play.

QUESTION

♣ Q 7 5

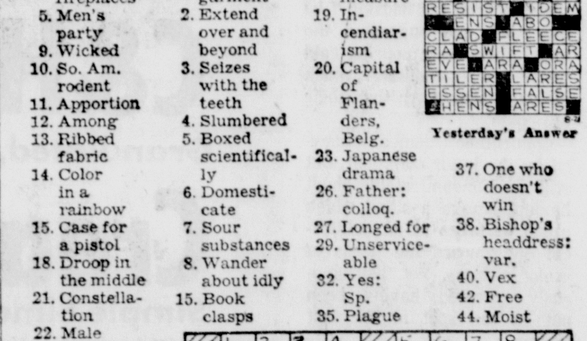

What do you say?

Answer. Bid one diamond.

Since you have 14 points in high cards you must open the bidding. There is nothing desperately bad about a bid of one club, but you have no reason to open a three-card suit when you have a four-card minor suit to bid.

World Is Facing Urban Problem

By ARTHUR FLETCHER

UNITED NATIONS (WPS) — One growth problem common to both the industrial and the developing countries is urbanization.

For the industrial nations it presents a complex of problems generated by the sprawl from congested and sometimes deteriorating urban cores. For the undeveloped nations it involves coping with the flight from the dullness of rural life and the noose of sickness, vice, poverty and unrest which the refugees throw around an urban center.

To the environmental health specialists of the World Health Organization urbanization ranks as second only to the problem of keeping the peace in this second half of the 20th Century.

Talks here with experts on the over-all aspects of urbanization suggest that a new view of the problem is emerging. Those who have read the papers to be presented at the U.N. Symposium on New Towns, being held in Moscow until Sept. 4, say that the expert consensus is that urbanization is and will remain a pervasive global fact of life, and that both business and the social systems built around it had better accept that fact and adjust to it.

This means in part that the experts have examined the record of cases where industry has been forced or induced into rural locations, and that they have decided this is a failure as a method of forestalling urbanization. In short, this will not stop the flow of people to the urban center. In spite of the misery and risks of the shanty towns in which many become trapped, people like the lights and excitements of the city.

A housing expert here, for example, said that even when a man gets a job after coming into the city, it doesn't follow automatically that he will move out of the facility-lacking shanty in which he found first shelter. Typically, he came in response to word from a relative or friend that life in the city was better than in the country. He'd rather stay near the people he knows even if it means traveling a long distance to his job.

Manila offers a prime example of this behavior pattern. Building was non-existent there for seven war years, with the result that the shortage of shelter reached fantastic proportions. Even today doctors and other high-income professional people can still be found living in the shanty towns, the expert told me.

The gradual emergence of the new view that urbanization is a trend which can't be reversed is revealed in the U.N.'s records since the Economic and Social Council decided several years ago that the secretariat should provide a clearing house for experience in coping with urbanization problems.

At bottom the problem is one of economic development, even though it also affects industrial countries. In the U.S., for example, a political battle over federal aid to salvage mass urban transportation is currently being fought. Another on the horizon is that to force an end to the pollution of urban air by automobiles.

In warm coastal areas from Arabia to China and Japan the alarm is out over the spread of filariasis, a consequence of inadequate water management as urbanization grows faster than public services. The mosquito, culex fatigans, which feeds on humans and breeds in contaminated water, is said to develop resistance to insecticides quickly. Thus the clean city is the only answer.

New ideas on how to improve the urban environment are likely to stem from the conclusion that urbanization is inevitable. One experiment is slated for Madagascar, and concerns a housing pattern. It is based on the same unified-area concept which underlies the industrial estate technique for economic growth.

In the case of housing it calls for two high-rise buildings for middle-income families. These, located on one side of the area, would be flanked by row houses surrounding communal service and recreational areas.

The thought is that as there is a rise in the productivity of the individuals concerned, high-rise buildings would replace the row houses, thus yielding a money-saving density of demand for services.

Homestead's Sanitary Tax Cut 38 Cents

Homestead Valley Sanitary District directors Monday for the second year in a row, agreed to cut the tax rate, with the drop for 1964-65 to be 38 cents. Last year's drop was 11 cents.

The estimated tax rate for 1964-65 is 28 cents per $100 assessed valuation, reported chairman Warren I. Jacobs. Last year's rate was 66 cents.

Reason for the drop, he said, is that assessed valuation increased about 40 per cent and, for the last two years, the district had to provide its share in cost of remodeling the Mill Valley treatment plant, which serves the Homestead effluence.

Jacobs said the budget for 1964-65 is about $17,000 as compared to that of 1963-64 which was about $19,000 beside the plant payment.

Sanitary Tax Rate Is Cut By Two Cents

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors Monday set a tax rate for 1964-65 of 16 cents per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of two cents from last year's rate.

The budget for 1964-65 is $117,200, according to Edwin S. Long, secretary. Last year's budget was $104,150.

Man's Car Stolen At San Rafael Home

A Vacaville man's car was stolen while it was parked at his son-in-law's home in San Rafael Sunday night, the son-in-law reported to San Rafael police.

William F. Fricke of 1202 Nye Street, Apt. A, said the light blue 1962 Ford sedan was registered to his father-in-law, Raymond E. Pittman.

Fishing Gear Stolen

Fishing gear and two 12-place settings of silverware valued at $211 were reported taken from the unlocked garage of William A. Huntsmon, 22, of 2541 Center Road, Novato, at 7:35 p.m. Monday.

Dust On Glaciers Believed From Space

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (P—Scientists from the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory reported yesterday dust samples taken from glaciers in Greenland contain properties extraterrestrial in origin.

Dr. Frances W. Wright of the observatory staff, Cambridge, Mass., and Dr. Paul W. Hodge of the Berkeley Astronomical Department, University of California, said recent studies ruled out the possibility the particles were caused by volcanic explosions on earth.

Distinct dissimilarities were found in tests comparing dust deposits from five Pacific volcanos and particles found in polar ice sediments.

The Wright-Hodge study revealed only a minute proportion of volcanic particles have the distinctive spheroid shape characteristic of the supposed meteoritic particles recovered from the glaciers.

It said the greatest chemical difference in the two deposits was the presence of aluminum in 50 per cent of all volcanic samples, and its absence in 90 per cent of all ice samples.

Volcanic samples for these tests were collected from the Pacific Northwest. Further tests will be conducted with samples from Costa Rica, South America and Hawaii.

Golf Clubhouse Rental Rate Increase Sought

A 30 per cent increase in rental rates for the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Clubhouse was recommended Monday by the city park and recreation commission.

Rates, if approved, would rise for one night on a weekend to Mill Valleyans from $25 to $35, for those living outside Mill Valley from $35 to $45 and for youth groups from $5 to $10. Service groups who now pay $144 per year for one meeting per week would be asked to pay $200.

The commission recommended also that the present caterers and custodians at the clubhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Korreng, be kept on as custodians and that they cater solely to groups that rent and not, as at present, to people who just drop in.

Youth Loses $105 While Riding Bus

Francis D. Knowlton, 17, of 326 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, told San Rafael police Monday he lost $105 aboard a Greyhound bus which he rode from San Rafael to Novato.

The money, in bills, was in a green Novato Savings and Loan C. container, he said.

Weissich Is Willing To Debate

William O. Weissich, county chairman for Barry Goldwater, declared today he welcomes the opportunity to publicly discuss campaign issues with the Democratic camp.

He made the statement in reply to a challenge to a debate Monday by Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., who heads the county campaign for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"The truth is," said Weissich, "I have already accepted an invitation to discuss the issues with a Johnson representative on Sept. 12 before a San Anselmo church youth group." Weissich said he believes the Democratic representative at the discussion will be Goldstein.

"No challenges are necessary," said Weissich. "I welcome the opportunity to discuss issues."

Major Bridge Victory Is Won

The husband and wife team from Marin took first overall in the mixed pairs championship, topping a field of 170 pairs from all parts of the Bay Area.

Theirs was the biggest win of several copped by Marin duplicate bridge players.

Mill Valley Lanterns

Two black wrought iron lanterns, given to the City of Mill Valley by the Mill Valley Rotary Club, were installed yesterday at the front door of the City hall and lighted during the morning. Installation was made by R. A. Gerrish and Son, Mill Valley electrical contractors.

Ross Calling
Lovely Ross, an area where the roots of trees and families grow deeply. Here, nestled upon a Lawrence Halprin-landscaped — level—¼ acre, we have discovered a charming split-level 2 BR (easily expandable) home with a captivating personality. The plush carpeted L.R. has large picture windows that reflect the glow from the heavy cutstone frplc. Through white louvered doors you see the sunken D.R.; its Virginia elegance and custom detail have a magnolia-white dream-quality. Dream-a-drams flow with the greatest of ease from the nearby recessed wet-bar. The adjacent informal Fam. Rm. with black wrought iron hood over a red brick BBQ is another delight. In turn, the gay early-American decor of the 3-rm guest cottage will make your teen-ager reach for a fife and drum. See it early. Just listed! Exclusive!

Richardson Sanitary Ordinances Studied

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District last night continued discussion of new ordinances for the district which would replace "antiquated" ones.

The new rules are expected to be voted on at the directors' meeting next month, board president Kurtis Webb reported. They would include updating of some outmoded technical requirements and setting of standards for installations such as motels, not now covered by district rules. Webb said there would be no change in district charges for connection or service.

WASHINGTON — Few people have ever seen "ball lightning" and there is some doubt that such a phenomenon exists—like flying saucers.

But now two physicists at New York's Yeshiva University say ball lightning is not only possible but they have figured out what could make it occur and how it could even boil water in a barrel.

Observers describe this rarity, which is always associated with thunderstorms, as an eerie, incandescent globe that hisses and crackles as it moves along slowly in the air. Some people have seen it go down and up chimneys, pop out of an oven door and melt airplane propellers. It may be very small or several feet in diameter and last from seconds to minutes.

Dr. David Finkelstein and a graduate student, Julio Rubenstein, theorize in a report to the American Physical Society that ball lightning is a glob of ionized air moving in a high electric field created by a thunderstorm. Ionization occurs when an atom is stripped of one or more electrons, a process associated with the discharge of a lightning bolt.

Once ionized, the researchers say, the air becomes conductive and, in rare cases due to the high electrical field, it concentrates into a ball. Electrical energy flowing inside the ball makes the fractured atoms and molecules glow and crackle.

Movement of the ball of ionized air is nothing mysterious. They say it is governed by air currents and electrical forces which may carry it anywhere.

St. Elmo's fire, which can dance on the wingtips of airplanes or the rigging of a sailing ship and be rather frightening, may be a form of ball lightning. Since ball lightning can adhere to a conductor such as an airplane propeller, Dr. Finkelstein said this could explain how a propeller was once partially melted in flight.

The scientists believe their theory is partly proven by its ability to explain how ball lightning can boil water in a barrel, an event reported in England three years ago. This is possible, they say, because the ball lightning simply transfers its "cloak" of electric fields and currents to the water, which is also a good conductor.

Ball lightning may disappear when electrical fields become too weak to sustain it. Or, says Dr. Finkelstein, it may go out "with a bang" — turning into a lightning bolt because the electrical field became too strong. The latter eventuality is a good reason for giving it wide berth.

To see if their theory holds true, the scientists now are attempting to create a ball of lightning in the laboratory. The efforts of other researchers have not been successful.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

When Reader Disagrees, Please Stick To The Original Question

VAN DELLEN

Some of our readers disagree with replies to questions and critcism is welcome, provided the complainant sticks to the original question. For example, I was asked, "Is itching common in winos?" My reply was, "Not to my knowledge, unless the wino is a bum who bathes infrequently."

One reader thought this a poor answer. "You do not know that some people are sensitive and allergic to any kind of alcohol—even in alcohol rubs. They get a rash and itch after one sip of brandy or whisky. This is not my own personal experience, but I know a couple of others who have the same condition. How could you rule out wine when many other foods cause allergies I know a boy who itches when he eats eggs in any form."

We appreciate the letter but failed to learn whether itching is common in those addicted to wine. Allergy is a possibility in anyone, including teetotalers. It is questionable whether a person who is allergic to alcohol would continue to drink.

ANOTHER example is concerned with the question: "What are the risks in having high blood pressure continuously for years?" I told about the risks, without beating around the bush or being dishonest.

We received several letters complaining about my answer. A woman from one wrote: "O, how joyous! Having had hypertension for about 20 years and being a 57-year-old widow, I wonder which shall be my fate. Is all this information really good for the layman?" Another said, "I have been under medication for years for hypertension. Dr. Van Dellen's answer put the fear of God in me."

I THOUGHT twice before I inserted this question because the reply might upset some people. On the other hand, many hypertensives refuse treatment because they regard the condition too lightly. The causes of death were mentioned in my answer. Sixty-five per cent die of heart attacks, but this also is true of people who have normal blood pressure. Being forewarned has its advantages. It has been said, "If you want to live a long time, get a chronic ailment and take care of it." Both of the readers quoted on hypertension are doing a good job along this line.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TB REMEDIES

E. F. writes: What do the antituberculosis drugs do in this disease? Do they kill the germs or prevent new infections?

REPLY

SUPERFLASHES

Mrs. J. writes: I am in the change. When the flashes come, I can hardly breathe and my heart beats faster. Is this the usual thing with hot flashes?

REPLY

No. Your flashes are "humdingers" and should be controled or minimized with hormones.

KNEE GROWTH

E.R.S. writes: Can an osteoma around the kneecap be removed successfully so that walking is not interfered with?

REPLY

Yes. Simple bone tumors usually can be removed without disturbing the function of the leg.

ROUTINE CHECKUP

Mrs. L. writes: Are regular Pap smears done routinely after a hysterectomy?

REPLY

Yes, provided the cervix remains.

MIRACLE PILL

M. O. writes: Is there some kind of pill you can take that will allow you to eat all you want and still lose weight?

REPLY

No. Pills so advertised are said to reduce appetite or produce a feeling of fullness. "Eat all you want" is a catchy phrase but it does not make sense because the majority of overweight persons got this way from eating all they wanted.

TAMMANY, BENGAL AND DETROIT?

Three tiger cubs born recently in Sacramento's William Land Park Zoo are reading a lot of youthful fan mail these days, in connection with a contest sponsored by the upcoming California State Fair, Sept. 2-13. Youngsters up to age 16 are vying in a "name the cubs" contest, with the winner to get all the loot shown in the background, plus an expense free day at the fair. Each entry should contain three name suggestions, 25 words or less on why they are appropriate, entrant's name, age, address, telephone number, and signature of parent or guardian. Entries should be mailed to Special Events Department, State Fair, P.O. Box 2036, Sacramento, Calif.

Boat Broker Files Suit For $100,000

Richard Miller, boat broker and marine supply store owner at Sausalito Yacht Harbor, has filed a $100,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court against two families for alleged personal injuries suffered April 12.

Defendants are Arne R. and Virginia Anderson of 93 Woodbine Drive, Mill Valley; their son, Gerald R.; and William and Betty Timmons of 102 Homestead Avenue, Mill Valley, and their son, William Jr.

Miller alleges that on April 12 the two minor youths entered his parked car on a Sausalito street and stole personal belongings from it. In his attempt to prevent the theft, Miller charges, he suffered a leg, ankle and foot injury and mental suffering.

High Court Justice Is To Retire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Justice B. Rey Schauer, a member of the California Supreme Court since 1942, announced his retirement today effective Sept. 15.

Justice Schauer, 73, will end 37 years of judicial service in state courts when he steps down. He was a judge in Los Angeles County Superior Court before being named to the State Supreme Court by Gov. Culbert L. Olson Dec. 15, 1942.

His retirement will closely follow that of Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson, who has announced he will step down Aug. 21.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has nominated Justice Robert J. Traynor to succeed Gibson as chief justice, and Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk to take Traynor's place as associate justice.

There has been no announcement as to Schauer's successor.

During more than 21 years on the Supreme Court, Schauer has written more than 500 majority opinions and 250 dissents.

Cafe At Civic Center Will Be Investigated

Complaints by the Marin County Employees Assn. on the service in the Civic Center cafeteria will be investigated by a three-man committee, which will report its findings next week.

The county board of supervisors yesterday appointed Chairman William A. Gnoss; W. P. (Doc) Duhamel, representing the employees, and Personnel Director Robert Elliott to discuss complaints with the cafeteria management.

Duhamel asked for the postponement. He said he resents a statement attributed to Mrs. Carnell Grafton, co-manager of the restaurant, that employees at the Civic Center "seem bored" with their jobs. "I resent that because the employees here are a dedicated group," said Duhamel.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr contended the Independent-Journal reporter who wrote the story "was picking up raw gossip from a lady obviously under stress . . . that is not responsible reporting."

A letter from the employees association charged that "there have been many complaints regarding the food and service, and the discontinuance of the paging telephone service" in the cafeteria.

Nike Missile Units Marking Anniversary

Saturday marks the 14th anniversary of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, at Fort Baker.

The region, activated in 1950 at Hamilton Air Force Base, has since maintained Nike missile units throughout California in a constant state of alert. Its mission, in the event of a hostile air attack, would be to protect vital industrial, population and military centers along the entire California coast.

Congratulations have been sent to members of the region from Lt. Gen. Frederic J. Brown, Sixth Army commander, and Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli, region commander.

Song, Dance Plans

Arirang, 50-member Korean song and dance company, will perform Sept. 20 at Forest Meadows at Dominican College in San Rafael as the final program in the Marin Music Chest's summer concert series. The program will begin at 3 p.m.
